

WE NOMINATE

The 30 senior members of the Princeton First Aid and Rescue Squad — and the Squad's highly promising corps of 15 cadets, young men ranging in years from 16 to 20 — whose distinguished and largely unsung service has endowed Princeton with a sense of security in moments of individual and community crisis. For instance, over the past weekend, as hard-pressed municipalities struggled with a lashing major storm, four squad members were on 'round-the-clock duty in their North Harrison Street headquarters and, from the time snow started to fall until the roads were reasonably clear on Monday, handled a dozen calls, including several life-or-death missions.

Ever since the Squad was launched in 1939 as the Ambulance Unit of Princeton Engine Company No. 1 (Chestnut Street Firehouse) it has been "where the action is." Starting with a single vehicle, which in the early years was largely manned by residents of the Chestnut Street neighborhood, and now operating two Cadillac ambulances, two rescue boats and a "rescue truck for extracting people from any situation imaginable," this remarkable organization can restructure Princeton's modern history in terms of tragedies, near-tragedies, accidents, fires and those completely un-anticipated events that require split-second reactions and highly skilled manpower capable of functioning under trying conditions.

Whether it is a laboratory explosion, a plane crash on Route 206, a drowning in the treacherous Delaware-and-Raritan Canal, or even a football game or July 4th fireworks display in Palmer Stadium, the Squad (volunteers all) is on hand and there is never a charge for services rendered. Entirely sustained by individual and corporate contributions, the unit's officers "run an extremely tight ship." Administrative expenses, frequently a bugaboo in non-profit enterprise, are held to an absolute minimum; the daily stress is on training, and more training; and the Squad's archives are jammed with letters expressing gratitude and respect for its promptness, ability and compassion.

The Squad's completely professional approach to training, and the maintenance of standards of performance comparable to the best in the country, are reflected in its rigorous cadet program, now in its fifth year and only open to men already holding advanced Red Cross first aid credentials. Lectures, demonstrations, courses and seminars, with senior members often re-capping materials covered at Columbia University and Mercer Hospital, are all part of the cadets' training regimen.

Linked by "hot lines" with municipal and State police desks, working in close cooperation with both East and West Windsor Townships, and a veteran dispatcher on duty 24 hours a day, the Squad continues to set new records year after year in coping with the needs of a mushrooming population. The past year produced a startling 16% increase in the number of calls handled by the Squad: a total of 1,328, or an average of 3.6 per day. Exclusive of any stand-by duty, or time for training, members in 1968 spent nearly 5,000 man-hours on the ambulances and covered 17,239 miles, including an ever-rising number of trips to hospitals in New York, Philadelphia and Washington.

For possessing, in the words of one member, "an intense and deep-rooted desire to do things right," for their dedication to the ideals and traditions of volunteer community service; for meriting the gratitude of the 1,000's they serve so quietly and so effectively; they are our nominees as

 Got a Front-End Loader? "It was worse the farther north you went," observed David Ludlum, Princeton's weather observer, as he set his compass for true south. "We only had seven to nine inches here in Princeton," he said, "and if you live in the eastern part of town (Mr. Ludlum lives on Riverside Drive in the remote Eastern Marches) you got more than you would have in the western section."

Compare those 7.9 inches to the 13.8 inches that fell all most exactly two years ago—February 6-7, 1967. That February, with 24.3 inches, was the snowiest month since 1899.

And the future...? A nice storm moved in over California on Monday, was playing around in Las Vegas on Tuesday, due over the Texas Panhandle on Wednesday, in Kentucky this Thursday and off the coast of Atlantic City late this Friday.

Snow? Rain? Mr. Ludlum shakes his head, "could be either one," he predicts.

Shitting Sands. It was the

drifts that made the depth a four-foot fence on the property of Princeton's Recreation Director, R. Donald Barr, on the Princeton-Hightstown Road—a d was—you guessed it. Covered One Princeton Township man had his driveway plowed twice on Sunday afternoon—by the time of the second plowing, you'd have thought no plow had ever touched the virgin snow.

Cherry Valley Road had 10-foot drifts (see photo, page 3), and Township plows were still working that road as late as Tuesday morning. Lawrence Township had trouble keeping its section of Mercer Road drift-free. Princeton Township kept pushing over its own segment of Mercer Road, trying to keep ahead of the wind.

"Guests over 40 miles an hour," nods Mr. Ludlum in agreement on that drift problem. "The wind started out in the south-east, then shifted to a north-east-to-north wind. And after the snow stopped, of course, we had winds of 30 m.p.h., for about 18 hours. That's unusual: normally winds blow after a storm for a much shorter period."

Hot, Really. Of course, it never got really cold, hardly below freezing. Householders shoveling a long sidewalk came inside as hot as after a 32m workout.

And there was even rain. From 7:30 to 8 Sunday morning, it rained and Mr. Ludlum, who likes storms, was appreciative.

"This storm formed over South Carolina Saturday as a secondary storm," he reports. "It's most unusual for a storm to develop so much strength so fast—we really didn't expect all this!"

Roll Up Those Sleeves. But the unexpectedness doesn't seem to have caught Princeton the way it did New York City. In the Township, the first men drifted in—parade the metaphor—early Sunday morning to report to John Clausen, superintendent of rural parks and roads.

The men just kept right on working. At the end of the day, the ones who lived outside of town bedded down in the Township garage, or in a friend's Princeton home.

With a front-end loader, a big grader and a pair of giant International trucks, the Township had no major equipment shortage. But there was a shortage of men who know how to handle the big giants. It's not so easy.

"The initial push on a snow-bound road is the important thing," points out Administrator Joseph R. Nini. "You need those big machines with expert drivers to break the road open. Then the smaller ones can come along."

The Big Break. In the Borough, it was one of those days: the big front-end loader blew a piston on Sunday night.

"Like an elderly man suffering a heart attack when he shovels a sidewalk," Borough Engineer Thomas Cawley shakes his head, "It was seven years old. . . ."

The Snows of Yesteryear

As is often the case, it wasn't so much the snow but the drifts that made Sunday's storm seem so severe. The seven to nine inches which fell over the Princeton area were whipped by the wind to depths ranging from one to four or five feet, depending on where you live. That was the story of the grand-daddy of them all. In March, 1888, about 20 inches fell, but the drifts were frequently taller than a man. So it is that more snow (25.8 inches) actually fell over December 26, 1947, than on any other date in Weathersburg history, but because there was very little wind, on one ever talks about the "Blizzard of '47."

The heaviest pre-Christmas storm on record occurred on December 11 and 12, 1960, when some 15 inches fell. Less than two months later, on February 3 and 4, we were hit again by 12 to 15 inches of snow, but this time combined with a slightly smaller one on January 19 to make the winter of 1960-'61 one of the worst the town has ever known.

Three years passed before another big snowfall struck Princeton — January 12 and 13, 1964, brought just over a foot. The blizzard of '67 was the last, not only were 13 inches recorded on February 7 but the snow fell while the thermometer was dropping to around 10 degrees.

Technically, a snowstorm is only a blizzard when the winds are howling 35 miles an hour and the thermometer is far below freezing. Last Sunday it was right around 32 all day.

end loader, and Mr. Cawley faced with a blown piston, decided to pick up his new machine ahead of time on Monday morning.

Before he could move, however, he felt the cold hand of the law on his snowy shoulder. The money for that front-end loader has only been budgeted it is not actually in hand, and the budget won't even be passed for another month. Thus the loader now would invite all kinds of hideous legal problems and maybe even land somebody (Mr. Cawley?) in jail.

So the Borough is renting the loader and the daily rental is being applied to the purchase cost.

"We have this agreement with the Township — we plow the streets where the norder is. We opened Walnut Lane up in five times with the plow, between Guyot Avenue and Franklin, Monday afternoon, we plowed it at 1:30 and by 5, it was closed completely again."

Snow Plus Wind. In town, the loudest place to plow was Walnut Lane — Franklin Avenue, Mr. Cawley says.

"We have this agreement with the Township — we plow the streets where the norder is. We opened Walnut Lane up in five times with the plow, between Guyot Avenue and Franklin, Monday afternoon, we plowed it at 1:30 and by 5, it was closed completely again."

Parking lots are only cleared after all the streets are clear. Mr. Cawley says. A crew worked all Monday night and cleared all 500 off-street parking places by 8 a.m. Tuesday. Men get time and a half, after eight hours of work. The Borough tries not to have its road crews work more than 12 hours, even though many men want to because of the overtime. Over fatigue can mean accidents.

Snow cleared from those parking lots is carted in trucks to the old Spruce Street quarry for dumping.

The Borough has more equipment than men, and always hires other Borough employees, meter men, sewer employees, etc. to help out. The chief trouble is finding manual snow-shovelers. That's a job nobody wants, even the kids.

I'm Abandoned! All this snow plowing helped, of course, and maybe New York did have it worse, but there were still snow-buried problems.

The Princeton-Hightstown Road between Route 1 and Route 130 was blocked off from 10:30 a.m. Monday to 2:30 p.m. that afternoon. A giant commuters' traffic jam, complicated by drifting snow and abandoned cars, forced closing of the road by State Police.

Rosedale Road, which lies in Princeton Township, is new, but it is so far out on the edges of the county that it almost never gets plowed. It was closed most of Monday.

"We finally sent Township trucks to sand Rosedale on Tuesday morning," Mr. Nini reports. "We just can't wait for the county — that road's too dangerous."

Thursday, February 13, 1969

The Plainsboro — Cranbury Road was blocked shut from Route One to Cranbury. This road is like Rosedale — it's in the far reaches of Middlesex County, and is sometimes left to the last. (After all, New Brunswick itself had 15 inches of snow!) One resident of Princeton Ridge section of Rocky Hill said "even the snowplows are stuck."

No School — Schools, of course, were closed. Even on Tuesday, when the Princeton public schools opened the sending districts were absent. West Windsor couldn't move its school buses (eight West Windsor roads were closed Monday day morning at 10:30). Rocky Hill and Montgomery Townships joined West Windsor in staying home Tuesday.

The Princeton Regional Schools have now used two of the three allotted snow days. If other big storms hit, children will have a curtailed spring vacation or maybe a snowed-out tour of duty in the summer-time.

I'm Safe. Strangely enough, there were hardly any accidents. One Borough patrolman said of the snowstorm, "It's something you can SEE" as opposed to an icy road, which can send a motorist into a dangerous skid before he knows the road is even icy.

One Monmouth Junction motorist did end up in Princeton Hospital, but not from a collision. He decided to let his car stay right there on Ridge Road, and he woke on Monday morning with — frostbite.

There were other casualties. Morning paper addicts found no morning papers Monday (it about 9:30. A harrided and Graduate at Princeton University said, "I have seven we end guests stacked up in room, including my SEST from Florida!"

Then, there's the Lawrence Township home-owner signed up, some months a with a man who agreed to p out his driveway, come next snow.

The snow-plow man ne appeared. The housin grumbling and gruffing a prating, made his way thro the drifts on Monday morn to the foot of his drivev There he encountered his n neighbor, who called cheerful greeting:

"Say, whaddya think? don't know who it was somebody came around plowed out my driveway."

TOPICS Of The Town

TAXES?
Of course, The Borough tax rate will take an 80c leap this year, while the Township makes a modest 13c hop.

Municipal budgets were introduced in both Princetons on Monday. The Township's will be taken to public hearing on Monday, March 17, and the Borough's on Tuesday, March 11.

School and county levies account for the biggest share of increases. That accounting error in the Princeton school system shoots the Borough's tax rate up 61c—but just for this year, of course. The Township, which had been overpaying its school share, has a school increase of only 7c.

Township taxpayers have another reason to smile: the local-purpose rate which was actually dropped by 12c and the amount to be raised by taxation is down $22,658, or 17% lower than it was for 1953.

This is chiefly due to a 2.76% increase in Township rates—able: $2,267,071 more than last year, for a $87,041,071 total.

At least, that's the educated guess. Mercer County contracted with a bank in south Jersey to do the computer work on this year's rates.

and accurate figures are still not in.

This means that both Borough and Township budgets are hedged about with words like "tentative" and "estimated" and "preliminary."

Down With Taxes. During the special Township Committee meeting held Monday to introduce the budget, Committeeman William L. Wilson pointed with pride to a new local rate only 1c higher than nine years ago. It is also the lowest local rate since 1960.

"Our local-purpose increase has only been 15% in that period," Mr. Wilson said.

The Township's dollar budget is $1,929,445 (up 5.1%) and the amount to be raised by taxes is $790,517, down from $873,175.

The tax rate per $100 of assessed valuation is therefore $6.57, in contrast to $6.44, last year.

The Borough taxpayer will pay $5.70 per $100 on his house, instead of the $5.90 he paid last year. Of this, $1.38 (instead of $1.32) is for local purposes, a 4-cent rise.

The total Borough budget is $1,993,064. The amount to be raised from the local taxpayer is $667,751. (Last year, it was $637,744.)

Sales Tax Comes Home. Borough and Township, like other municipalities, benefit from the New Jersey sales tax. The Borough will get back $47,027 and the Township $41,177.

"Here in the Township," said Mayor John D. Wallace, "We wanted to return that entire $41,000 to the taxpayers—it's slightly less than five tax points—rather than use it to increase our expenditures. We won't be able to do it every year, but this year, we did."

More Pay. Salary increases swell this year's budgets in both communities. All patrolmen will receive about $550 more a year (in the Borough it's $566, in the Township $598). The difference is simply a matter of calculation: the Borough used a percentage, the Township round figures.)

In the Borough, a first-year patrolman will now receive $5,321 instead of $7,850. Men will rise to $9,416 in four yearly steps.

Borough sergeants will now receive $10,468 (up from $9,875); lieutenants, $11,750 up from $10,750 and the chief, $13,300 up from $12,300.

This is slightly less than what the police asked for, which was a straight 10% increase.

All Borough personnel will receive at least 6% raises, department heads slightly more. Most Borough employees have now reached the ceiling of the 1965 Barrington study that laid out a salary ladder for municipal employees.

The Borough's budget leaves those parking garages still in the imagination. But $10,000 has been added to the capital improvement fund, beefing it up to $17,000 so the Borough will have the resources for 5% down payment if it decides to float a bond issue for garage construction.

The Township's salary budget includes $55,318 for raises and additional salaries. Included in the figure is $5,000 to finance a summer youth work program. This summer, as last, older teen boys will be hired to clean up Open Space lands and build paths.

The $17,350 jump in the Princeton Public Library's budget slice is mostly for salary increases. The Township plans to buy a second traffic counter so the planning Board can find out which roads are most used, and a sixth police car with oxygen tanks, fire extinguishers, first aid ropes and the like.

SILENCE

In "Film-Navel." A series of 15 unrelated episodes, woven together in a kind of "film navel"—according to one critic
—is Peter Emmanuel Goldman's
"Echoes of Silence," a classic of the underground cinema.
"Echoes of Silence" will be shown at McCarter next Tuesday at 8 p.m., as the newest in the theatre's New Cinema series.

Made over a three year period (1962-65) on a budget of $1,500, "Echoes of Silence" is virtually a silent film, except for a music track. It portrays the sexual problems of Greenwich Village through the eyes of three characters common to each of the 15 episodes.

McCarter Chekhov: Difficult Done Well

BY ERNEST SCHIER

Bulletin Drama Critic

PRINCETON — It is rare
when one finds a production so evocative of particular time and place, so faithful to the playwright's intention as the current production of Chekhov's "The Three Sisters" at the McCarter Theatre.

Although it is dismayingly long, running close to three and one half hours, the drama of thwarted hopes in a changing society beautifully captures the sad, muted music of Chekhov as well as his quiet comedy.

These are the two things,
the lyricism and the affectionate humor, that are most often missing when Americans attempt the plays of the great Russian dramatist.

EARLIER this season I speculated that Arthur Lithgow, McCarter's executive director, might have assembled an unusually good company. I'm glad to see I wasn't wrong.

It is an excellent group and it has in Kathryn Walker, Susan Kinslow and Beth Dixon, a trio of fine actresses to play the title roles.

Miss Walker, especially, is noteworthy as Olga, the school teacher who clearly sees her fate but is helpless to resist it.

She is immensely talented and brings a sensitive authority to the stage that has a steadying effect on the rest of the company.

OLGA Irina and Masha live in the family where life is dull and three educated women and existence for them,
and those around them,
seems futile.

They long to go to Moscow where, they dream, life will be rich and meaningful.
Moscow is the symbol of their thwarted hopes, a magical place where love and work can be found. But it is only a symbol. One knows that even if they ever were to gain this impossible dream life would be the same for them.

THE production is staged like a mournful sigh, interspersed with brief moments of false joy, and gradually the pretense each of the characters drapes himself in is stripped away. The only realist in "The Three Sisters" is Natasha, played by Holly Vilaire, who shrewdly marries into the family and aggressively takes possession of the house and its few remaining comforts.

Brendan Burke as the Baron, Robert Blackburn as the unhappily married commander of a local battery of soldiers, and Max Gulack, as a simple, foolish man who knows he is both simple and foolish, are all splendid.

The McCarter production of "The Three Sisters" distills
the spirit and meaning of Chekhov in excellent fashion and leads one to think this repertory troupe isn't one of the most underrated in the country today.

PLAYHOUSE AND PRINCE
Romeo and Juliet (now playing). Italian director Franco Zeffirelli has given us an exciting interpretation of the old classic. The film swirls with color, movement and excitement—with the animal spirits and brashness of youth. Here are no languishing, sighing lovers.

Olivia Hussey, said to have been only 15 when she played the role, is the youngest actress ever to have undertaken the part of Juliet professionally. Leonard Whiting is said to have been only 17 when the film was made. Zeffirelli has been able to draw from these youngsters performances with a touching childlike quality, yet with an intensity and sexuality that makes plausible the tragic train of events.

He has taken many liberties with Shakespeare in an effort to stress its relevance to contemporary problems. The scene is mid 16th century Italy, rather than Shakespeare's Elizabethan 16th century, enabling the film to capitalize on the richness of Italian Renaissance costumes, interiors and architecture.

The scene opens with a clash in the marketplace of Verona between Montague and Capulets which results in two Montagues being wounded. The incident nearly causes a major encounter between the two families, who are restrained by the Prince of Verona.

And it is here that Zeffirelli introduces his rich use of color, the stalls of gorgeous fruits and vegetables, the counterpointing orange clothing of the Capulets and the deep blues and purples of the more aristocratic Montagues.

The film abounds in quick cuts that speed up the action. After the duel with Tybalt, Romeo robs in Friar Laurence's cell, "by his own tears made drunk," the scene shifts to the lovers in bed. The bedroom scene has a glimpse of Romeo

"We have been quite successful in this," Robert Cassidy Mr. Comly's associate said the other day. "We hunt for all sorts of things — a coffee pot to go with a particular service, a tray for a tea service."

The Silver Shop has "an excellent supplier," according to Mr. Cassidy, who makes clear plastic liners for your silver mustard pots and open salts, so you can take those off the top shelf and get them fixed right off.

The shop can repair the annoying heat breaks in the ivory handles of tea and coffee pots. It also has woven handles made for guernsey jugs — and if you're with it, you're using your guernsey jug these days for cocktails as well as for milk or hot water.

Looking around the Silver Shop, we saw any number of intriguing pieces, with Mr. Cassidy supplying an interesting commentary. The most startling was an early 1900' solution to keeping foods hot. Imagine, if you can, a huge silver bowl about 2 1/2 wide that holds close to a half-gallon of steaming hot water. Covering it is a silver tray that contains openings for three silver vegetable dishes, each with an ornate lid, and in the standing nude at the window. Pat Heywood endows the role of nurse with an earthy, lusty quality. She makes a memorable appearance in the square looking for Romeo—approaching like "a fine barge" in her coat of many colors, her long white headress like "a sail."

John McEnery's flashing performance as Mercutio sometimes steals the show. Michael York as Tybalt and Milo O'Shea as Friar Laurence are excellent. In all, it's a version of "Romeo and Juliet" with which young people can identify.

GARDEN

The Sergeant (now playing). This is a film that carries the "restricted" classification. It is a generally faithful adaptation of the Dennis Murphy novel, with a script by the author himself.

The story concerns a tough American top sergeant with homosexual inclinations that are so latent that he does not at first recognize why he is strongly attracted to a handsome young private under his command.

In the role of the professional soldier who acquires self-knowledge with tragic results, Rod Taylor gives an interesting, uneven performance. John Philip Law has some good moments, too, as the sensitive private who prefers girls—specifically, in the film, a French girl, played by Ludmilla Miklo.

In other words, it is sort of a male version of "The Fox."

FILM SERIES PLANNED
At Princeton University. The Creative Arts Program of Princeton University will sponsor a Renoir Film Festival, beginning Tuesday, February 18 with an introductory lecture on "Film Appreciation."

Students from Princeton and Bryn Mawr will present a dramatic reading of Euripides' "The Cockerill Party," Friday and Saturday in McCormick Hall on the University campus.

The "drama," traditionally called "Alceste," has been renamed by the group to emphasize the connection of the ancient work to T.S. Eliot's modern poem. The free performances will begin at 8:30 p.m.

The reading will be directed by James McCaughey, a former Princeton faculty member who now teaches at Bryn Mawr.

The part of Alceste, the heroine of the drama, will be played by Jane Wilson of Bryn Mawr. Princeton students who will portray the leading male roles are: Don Mathison, Peter Joyce, Wayne Bell and Tom Connell.

CARTOON TO BE SHOWN

At Maurice Hawk School. A cartoon movie, "The Man Called Flintstone," will be shown at 1:30 p.m., Saturday, February 22, at the Maurice Hawk School on Clarksville Road, Princeton Junction. Admission is 50c.

The last of four family films sponsored by the West Windsor PTA will be presented on April 12. The movie will be "The Incredible Mr. Limpet."

AND A BAR ROOM PIANO: The mystery King and Queen of the Carnival will appear at Friday night's Mardi Gras in John Witherspoon School, planned by the Parent-Teacher Association — a group that is in a dangerously merry mood. In addition to a casino ("We were nearly arrested when we asked the police for chips"), there will be strenuous games, a couple of bands, door prizes, food, a midway ("a nickel a try") and, if the search is successful, a bar room piano. Dr. Wesley Johnson will do the cakewalk at 9 p.m. in the festivities. It's an all-out affair for the J. parrots and friends. Hours are 8 to 11; admission is 50¢ and wear your fun clothes.

It's New To Us

GRANDMA'S DELIGHT: The Little Clothes Line isn't just grandmothers who buy children's things at the Little Clothes Line in Palmer Square. It's about 30-50 mothers and grandmothers.

It's just that the window of the Little Clothes Line always has a covey of cooing middle-aged women peering at the display of Swiss-embroidered bobby suits and dresses.

The clothes are enchanting, undeniably. A lot of regular customers are from out of town, and new people here find the shop quickly.

Primarily, the Little Clothes Line is a gift shop. About 75% of the customers want their purchases gift-wrapped. And the shop mails its things all over the country.

There is the lingering touch of the Nana in the exquisite clothes on display. By and large, they are conservative.

By "conservative," we mean gently modernized versions of the traditional — such as the ever-flattering smocked dresses for little girls in today's amusing fabrics, at the simple, elegant little sun dresses.

For little boys, (the boys' line has gotten a lot more interesting.) we saw some simple but sporty seersucker jackets with matching shorts. The jackets are collarless and the seersucker weave we liked was in red, white and grey. ($14.95)

The bobby suits will make you exclaim. Among them, and it is hard to choose, is one in blue with a white collar. Gay Little bugs blowing trumpets are embroidered down the front.

Also for boys, a sunsuit with an embroidered camel, a seersucker romper with an embroidered goat, rooster and puppy looking up at the sun ($5.95). Among the stretch suits, a blue-and-white striped with mother duck and her two offspring embroidered on the white yoke.

The embroidery is child-oriented, amusing. It is done in Switzerland on American fabrics and from American patterns.

The Little Clothes Line sells a lot of bobby suits, little two-piece sets that are wearable all year long. We fell in love with a gold and white set, trimmed with a gold bear and honey comb — and two small bees hovering overhead. The bobbies go through the washer and drier beautifully.

Going over to the little girls' section, we picked an infant's size dress in and-white gingham with a of starflowers across the hem and flipped up the hem to see the matching ruffled lined panties. We never see anything so charming. But you may prefer the ming dress in pink gingham long pants and feet. It's delightful!

The sundresses are amazingly embroidered or appliqued. There's a cny caterer peeking around a yellow flower on a simple little green and white gingham. Another easy-to-iron style that clings with a single button on each arm, and the ruffled panties show through the slit.

You'll find a fine variety of infants wear, blankets, quality-printed quilts. The clothes range from through toddlers up to age 8 or 10.

And around the walls, see the Little Clothes Line collection of cuddly and There's even "Hugkins," a foot long mouse in stripes who is so flexible your favorite small fry can anything with him. Even him in a knot.

Primer on Applause.

To the Editor of Town Topics:
McCart Theatre's recent presentation of the Jeffrey Ballet was partly marred, I felt, by intrusive patterns of applause from the audience: this happens regularly not only to other ballet but to musical concerts as well.

Since the conventions of applause on these occasions seem either not known or not accepted, they are perhaps worth restating and re-justifying. Performers should be applauded only at the end of complete works, never between the movements of sonata or symphony and never between the different sections of a short ballet, the sole exceptions being a pas de deux of manifest virtuosity.

Against this may be argued, "Why shouldn't an audience show its wholesome en-

NOTICE

TOWN TOPICS will make every effort, based on space limitations, to publish up to 500 words of any letter on a subject directly affecting the Princeton area. Because of the volume of news which must be covered at the community level, letters on topics of a national or international nature cannot be considered.

Letters to Mailbox should be typewritten if possible, double-spaced, and must be signed for publication. Those received later than Monday afternoon may be held for use the following week.

Joyment and enthusiasm spontaneously instead of being coerced by convention! The anger is that there are good reasons for these conventions. Ballet and music are for the most part the very opposite of spontaneous arts: intrusiveness breaks up the wholeness and formality of their individual works.

We are not here dealing with the situations of jazz or of drama geared to audience participation, which are essentially informal or even anti-formal. Ballet and music depend on the non-participation of the audience in order to develop unity; the balance and contrast of moods between different sections is ruined by clapping.

Applause should be our tribute to the artists as people after they have completed their work and stepped out of their roles. To clap them individually or collectively before this is to interrupt the unity they are striving for, to break the aesthetic illusion they have created.

The audience which asserts itself in this way is not truly appreciative; it distorts formal works of art into variety shows by breaking them up into short, easily assimilated pieces, reducing them to the status of a series of fancy-dress stunts or "acts." Variety is a legitimate form with its own rhythm, but its patterns of audience response are not applicable to ballet or music, which demand a more humble and silent attention through to the conclusion, at which the applause should be all the greater.

I feel that the fine work we are privileged to see at McCart Theatre deserves a more sustained and self-effacing appreciation than is shown by intrusive clapping, which is liable to seem at once naive and patronizing.

Credit Where It's Due.

To the Editor of Town Topics:
While it is true that I contacted the township police to report the fire in one of the buildings of the Hun School (TOWN TOPICS, Feb. 6) credit for such help as that report may deserve belongs to our Komondor puppy, Duna, who got me up before the flames were visible, ran roaring to the force which confines him when I did not understand and called my attention to that roof line just as the flames broke through.

Thanks from Goucher Club.

To the Editor of Town Topics:
On behalf of the Goucher Club of Princeton I would like to once again thank those members of the Princeton community who so unselfishly gave of their time to make our Second Annual Children's Film "Smoker" such a success.

To Mr. Knight, the manager of the Princeton Playhouse go our heartfelt thanks for his wonderful public spirited guidance and cooperation in planning and carrying out our benefit. To Alice's, Male's and Hult's we express our appreciation for their kind help and if YOU LIKE TOWN TOPICS, the best way to express your appreciation is to mention it to our advertisers.

cooperation in selling our tickets.

Our thanks go to those Princeton families who brought their children to see our film. Thanks to you all we were again able to make a generous contribution to the Goucher College Scholarship Fund.

We are looking forward to planning next year's third annual film.

Bard Night A Success.

To the Editor of Town Topics:
I wish to thank you very much for your help in making Jim Bard Night such a success. Your generous co-operation in helping to publicize it certainly contributed to its success.

The total of the funds raised amounted to $2,340.00, and more than 800 spectators attended. We were deeply moved by the support shown by the community and sincerely appreciate your enthusiasm in publicizing it for us.

Once again, many thanks.

Princeton Chapter of Parents Without Partners, 8:30 p.m., Tuesday, February 25, in the conference room of the First Presbyterian Church. Mr. and Mrs. John Murphy of Pennington will speak on "Making it Alone." Mr. Murphy is on leave as a social worker in charge of a Head Start program and the summer migrant schools. Mr. Murphy is a financial executive.

The group is composed of single parents, widowed, divorced, separated or never married, devoted to the welfare and interest of parents and their children in this area. All single parents are welcome.

Princeton Area Council of Community Services will sponsor the first public tour of the State Training School for Boys in Skillman at noon Thursday, February 20. The tour includes such and an explanation of the concept behind the rehabilitation school by Dr. Alfred Vuocolo, superintendent. Staff members will talk about their jobs and conduct tours of the Stoller, Captain David Cromwell, Mike Niese, Bill Park, Robert McCloskey Sr. and Raymond Rodeweller. Also on the roster but absent at the picture-taking are Royal Archer, Marcus Case, Robert Clausen, Gerald Johnson, Squad Secretary Rudy Lebert, Leo McCloskey, David McCloskey, Frank Maguire, William Rodeweller, Second Lieutenant Vincent Ross, Head Driver John Selah, Douglas Watson, Anthony Zaccarelli and DeWitt Bobos. Cadets Mark Banerotti, Robert Grove, Robert Markson, Robert Fanden, Bruce Richmond, William Shields and Dennis Sullivan. Serving in the Armed Forces are Roger Rite (made in Vietnam) Army Ryden (Air Corps), Jeffrey Buchanan (Coast Guard) and William Rodeweller (Marine Corps).

The state's newest, most advanced training school cares for juvenile offenders between the ages of 8 to 13, who have no prior commitment record. Only 12 to 14 boys are added each month, the average commitment rate for first offenders in the state in this age group. It is believed that first offenders, separated from older juveniles will have a better chance of complete rehabilitation.

The Council of Community Services, through its staff and the juvenile offenders committee plan to act as supporter and possible coordinator of area groups involvement. Art teachers, sports, team competition and other "brother" workers will be encouraged. For reservations for the tour, call 923-5862 by Tuesday. The luncheon will cost $1.75.

Association of The New Jersey Psychiatric Institute will give spring orientation at the Institute for all new volunteers and those interested in becoming volunteers from 10 to 2:30 Monday in the Gerry Classroom. Bring a sandwich; coffee will be served. For reservations or information call 966-1017.

Lawrence Township PTA's, Lawrenceville, Benjamin Franklin, Edgemoor Park and Slackwood, will hold a joint mother-daughter evening, featuring Audree Estey and the Princeton Regional Ballet.

Joint Recreation Board Lowers Some Pool Fees

Hopes Increased Use Will Offset Income Loss

The Joint Recreation Board has announced a number of changes for the children's season involving fees, hours and policies of the Community Park pool complex.

"This is it," said R. Donald Barr, executive director of the board. "We have given this a tremendous amount of consideration. For the nth time, we've gone over all the facts, and this is our final pool policy for 1969."

The highlights:
Daily Fees: The daily admission fee for children 15 and under has been cut in half—from 50 cents to 25 cents. The weekend and holiday rate has been cut from 75 cents to 50 cents. Unchanged are the adults fees (16 and over) of $1 and $1.50 and guest fees.

Season Ticket Fees: Season tickets for those 15 and under have been reduced from $15 to $10. In addition, two new categories have been established: Adult 65 and over for whom a season's ticket will cost $12, and husband and wife over 65. Season tickets for them $20. These are reductions of $3 and $5 respectively.

Unchanged are a family ($40), husband and wife ($25) and individual 16 and over ($15). Not affected are non-resident and guest fees.

There have been no fee changes involving the 15 teen courts at Community Park.

Hours: The pools will be open seven days a week instead of six. New daily hours will be from 11:30 to 8 p.m.

On weekends and holidays, the pools will open at 9 a.m.—the hour they opened each last year.

During the first few weeks in June and for the last weekend after Labor Day, the pools will be open from 10 to 6 p.m.

Policy Changes: Swimmers who pay the daily admission fee can now leave and re-enter the pool as often as they wish for a single admission fee. Mr. Barr said that an ultra violet light, hand-stamping procedure will be inaugurated.

Princeton families will be considered a member of the family for the length of their stay.

Season tickets can now be purchased under an installment plan by those who can't afford to pay the cost in one lump sum. Arrangements with wide-ranging flexibility can be made between the applicant and Mr. Barr, who reported that the only wish of the board in the matter is that the ticket be paid if possible by the opening of the pools.

The free instructional swim program will be broadened to include intermediate and advanced swimmers—and adults, too, if the demand is great enough. Open only to Princeton residents or season ticket holders, the program will be conducted from 9 to 11:30 weekday mornings.

More Scholarships. In a basic departure from last year, Mr. Barr announced that the board plans to expand greatly its program of pool scholarships (free season tickets). He said that the board intends to increase its contacts with recognized welfare and other community agencies to help identify those who are in genuine need of financial help—both young and old.

Such individuals or families who are identified by agencies or who identify themselves will be given free season tickets without any further questions asked. "We feel this will eliminate the means test which so many people find objectionable," Mr. Barr said.

In essence, the board is replacing the two free swim periods it offered last year from 9 to 11 a.m. and 6 to 8 p.m. with its expanded scholarship program. There will be no free swim periods this summer.

"We found that the 6 to 8 p.m. period was being used mainly by persons who could easily afford to pay," explained Mr. Barr. Many of those taking advantage of the free swim period had purchased season tickets the year before. "As for the 9 to 11 period, that just wasn't used as much as we had hoped it would be."

The board has tried, in its new policies, to meet the objections raised to the pool during its first two years of operation. In making the changes, it said in a formal statement that it had been guided by the following objective:

1. To charge Princeton residents the lowest possible fees consistent with maintaining a superior facility and recovering current operating costs.

2. To assure that no Princeton resident is denied entrance to the pools for economic reasons.

3. To encourage broad-based resident use of the pools.

Mr. Barr estimates cutting the daily admission fees for children will reduce pool income by $300. "Twenty-five cents a day is really cheap swimming for a pool like this," he said. He is hopeful that the difference will be made up in increased usage.

His concern is a real one because the board is committed to the Borough and Township, which provided the capital funds for the pools' construction to meet operating costs. Last summer, pool income was $34,799. Pool expenses totaled $54,063 for a paper-thin surplus of $706.

In a special meeting held last week for comments by Princeton residents on the pools, Mr. Barr read 10 letters he had received. Their pro and con points ranged from a suggestion to have the lockers adjusted so the user didn't have to pay every time he used it, to a well thought-out, three-page typewritten letter containing three "minor recommendations" and three "major proposals."

Those contributing letters were Mrs. Winifred Procter, 81 Moore Street; Lowell F. Corran, 50 Murray Place; Mrs. Stuart B. Berger, 59 Marion Road; Charles R. Erdman, 20 Goodwin Street; Dr. and Mrs. Charles B. Rice, 118 Dodds Lane; Irwin Weiss, 248 Moore; Benson Curlin, 228 Torhune Road; Mrs. Charles J. Hunt Jr., 23 Cuyler Road; Mrs. Orren Jack Turner, 39 Hamilton Avenue; and Mrs. Edward Nelson, 165 Hickory Court.

Open It Up! One of two who spoke at the meeting was Seymour Alpert, 27 Randolph Road. He urged the Board to have more special events at the pool, giving as one example a free day once in a while for everyone.

"Open it up," he said. "The board is a little up tight. I have the feeling they are afraid to use the facility. They're too conservative."

The board intends to do just that. Mr. Barr reported that the Board, in conjunction with the high school, is planning to hold a Junior prom at the pools on May 16. An AAU Regional Finals meet will be held July 21-22 at the pool complex in which contestants from seven states will compete.

On these days, the pools will be closed from 8:30 to 12 noon and from 6 to 8 p.m. They will be open from 12 to 6 to the public. Those holding season tickets will be admitted free to the meet.

New Chairman: Dean Chase from the Township has been named chairman of the board, replacing the Borough's John Conroy. Mrs. Francis Hulner of the Borough is the new vice chairman, replacing Robert Sinkler of the Township. Other Borough board members are Wilbert Brooks, and William J. Armiger; from the Township, Mrs. Josephine Mathey and William R. Bonhron.

The board will meet next February 19 at 8:15 p.m. in Room G-25 in the high school.

mansion will have a first-year budget of $9,500. The Township has set aside slightly more than half $5,000 as its share.

The Joint Recreation Commission budget is up, because the Princeton Community Swimming Pool will be open this summer on Mondays.

Money Coming In. Municipalities do take in money as they pay it, $5,000 as its share in taxes. In the Borough for example, the 1969 revenues will be $1,134,894. The biggest piece is $146,000 from the neighboring Township for sewer and incinerator use (the University pays $64,900 as its share).

New Jersey Bell Telephone and Public Service pay the Borough 10 percent in franchise taxes, and Princeton shoppers pay $105,000 in parking meter penalties.

HOUSING GROUP FORMED

To Advise P.C.H. What kind of middle income housing do Princeton residents want? About 30 people from Borough, Township and afield, but employed here, attended a meeting in Township Hall Tuesday night to talk about middle income housing with representatives of Princeton Community Housing, Inc., the non profit corporation that is planning some 275 mid income units for Borough and Township.

After the brief meeting, Don Mager of 79 Hemlock Court, volunteered to be the temporary chairman of a Citizens' Advisory group and to let everybody present know when the next meeting will be.

P.C.H. Inc. has obtained the Borough parking lot on Spring Witherspoon next to the library and plans about 75 units there with underground and on-site parking. The units will be chiefly one bedroom, with a few efficiency apartments and a few two-bedroom units.

In the Township, a site committee is looking for land. The architecture firm is developing a plan for about 200 housing units.

Children? One of the main items of discussion Tuesday night was P.C.H. policy about children. Would they be allowed?

It was understood in the Borough that no children would be allowed in the Borough units," stated Mrs. Richard Edwards, 26 Green Jackson English. P.C.H. board member representing the Unitarian Church, explained that Borough-Township were considered as a unit, one balancing the other. "Children are a few in the Borough units, but families in the Township

Jay Lynch, of Alvin Gershen Associates, the firm working with P.C.H., explained that his firm and P.C.H. want to build off on the actual distribution of families and single tenants in all plans for the Township units are further along. The state, he added, does want larger units for families. P.C.H. believes that if Township and Borough are considered as one, the state desires can be met.

You could start out in the Borough as a newly married couple then move into a larger Township family apartment in a few years, Mr. Lynch suggested.

He told the group that occupancy limitations would guarantee against eight people, except, living in a one bed room apartment.

Experiment! "Are you going to use experimental construction techniques to keep costs down?" demanded Mr. Mager.

Mr. Lynch replied that enormous construction savings would be required to have any effect at all on rents. He estimated that construction costs amount for 50% of the rent. If 10% can be saved in construction costs, this isn't going to save much on rent, he pointed out.

Mr. English, admitting the inefficiency of most construction techniques, said that an experiment would take time too long, and Mr. Mager called Lynch "You're giving up!"

Mr. Lynch said the New Jersey enabling law for middle income housing encourages experimentation, and he promised he would discuss the question with Robert Geddes, whose firm of architects has

Snow Blocks Road Plan

Roads that already exist were given enough trouble in snowy Princeton Township Monday night. So the Township Planning Board called off its scheduled public hearing on the Road Master Plan and its roads of the future.

The hearing will be held on Tuesday, March 4, at 8 p.m. in Township Hall. The Planning Board has been conferring for many weeks with various property owners concerned with the Road Master Plan, and the board's report will be notified most of these people by telephone on Monday.

been retained to design the Borough units.

Mr. Lynch also informed the audience that ways to get the interest rate from 6% to 10% for middle income housing.

The new citizens group will talk about all these questions, plus others, some more hostile, like "Is the cost worth it" to the Princeton community?"

The hearing was raised Tuesday night.

800 CODES ADDED

To Princeton Campus. Nearly 800 girls from some 30 all female colleges joined the university community early this week, welcomed by hordes of admiring undergraduates and the flavored toast paper supplied by the Princeton administration.

Delayed by the nine-inch snowfall, about half the girls arrived late, but the weather didn't dampen their enthusiasm. "I'm glad to be here," said Sweet Briar. "I said one girl who started from the Virginia college at 6 a.m. on a Sunday morning, "but it's going to be well worth it."

"I wanted to get to know the old Princeton before coed education," noted Capt. Carol Cornelius, a junior at Wheaton College. "The place is going to be all right."

Others were more in favor of coeducation, and wanted to get in on the ground floor. "I'm a sophomore from Brattle Cliff, commented, "All the good schools are going coeducational now. I want to see what Princeton's like during the week, as well as on the weekends, so that I'll be able to make a decision about transferring."

The men, however, were skeptical about the chances for achieving academic parity during a week of educational classes. "I'll be getting off well to do half the work this week than I normally do," said one senior, as he helped his fiancée out of her car from Fernbrake. "I'm mainly interested in how many girls will show up for my engineering classes."

Asked about potential problems with male admirers trying to reach her by telephone at all hours of the night, Sharon Werner, a junior at Bryn Mawr, replied smoothly, "You call those problems?"

But while men and women alike generally looked forward to leisure filled week of classes and fun in the show, a few men couldn't get really excited. "There's going to be a very big letdown," said junior Peter Cohen, one of the project's organizers, looking forward to 10 more weeks of classes after the girls leave next Friday.

AREA SOLDIER KILLED
In Vietnam. A 22-year-old Dutch Neck, N.J., whose tour of duty in Vietnam would have ended in 60 days, was killed February 2 as the result of a rocket attack north of Saigon. Sp1 Thomas R. Grover, son of Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Grover, Village Road East, would have returned to the United States in early April, according to his father. Sp1 Grover, a rifle squad leader with the 199th Light Infantry Brigade of the Third Division, had been wounded last November in a battle near a area where he was killed. He had received the purple heart for his wounds, but it lacked on a number of conditions.

The board ruled that an existing narrow drive that runs from 12 Library Place through Edgelynn Street must be closed to all traffic. All traffic in the construction of the residence hall may not enter the site from Edgelynn.

In addition, the board requested that an overall parking plan for the entire semi-nary be submitted and that a second plan outlining plantings and landscaping on the Edge hill site of the proposed new building be submitted to the Borough Zoning officer for his approval. (The 16 spaces required by the new hall would provide the total number of additional parking spaces for the semi-nary to provide to 258. It presently has 452.)

OKAY SEMINARY DORM

But Zoners Add Restrictions. The Borough Zoning Board last week gave Princeton Theological Seminary the conditional use permit it needed to build a new, three-story residence hall at 20 Library Place.

Also, the board stipulated that no new structure could be erected on an open, 91-foot strip of land the Seminary owned which runs between the library and Edgelynn hall north wall of the proposed hall.

The board also granted a 15-foot variance. Zoning laws require a 45-foot space between the nearest points of an existing and proposed building. Seminary plans showed a 30-foot space between its hall and the nearest point of the closest existing building — its Center for Continuing Education at 12 Library Place.

One wing of the new hall will house 38 dormitory students. A second wing will be reserved primarily for guests associated with the Center for Continuing Education. It will provide guest rooms for 42. Dr. James I. McCord, Seminary president, testified before — Continues on Next Page

GAME OF THE WEEK

RSVP — three dimensional scabble crossword game.

RSVP is a word game played on both sides of an upright game board by 2 players or 2 teams. The object is to form horizontal and vertical words by placing letter blocks in crossword fashion on your side of the board, while blocking the formations of words on the opposite side.

the board that the new residence hall was one of three buildings in the Seminary's long-range planning. "Our last academic building, Stuart Hall, was built in 1876. We are going to have to build another larger building," he said. "We also need a new post-doctoral academy." He added they were protected on other locations on the campus.

Bell Can Expand. The Bell Telephone Company was granted a conditional use to extend its central switching building at 239 Nassau Street by 20 feet. David E. Lewis, general agent for Bell, told the board that his company had estimated the building would not be able to handle additional service beyond September, 1970 unless it were expanded. He said the mechanical equipment which had to be added was "essential to service all of Princeton."

In another case, the board waived two parking spaces, granting a request by Dr. Donald Pickering, who is constructing a two-story parking facility to the rear of his office building at 22 Chambers Street. The new ordinance calls for 63 spaces but Dr. Pickering's attorney, Samuel Lambert, testified that "a practical difficulty" concerning the traffic flow on the second floor would be eliminated if two spaces could be waived.

Two Carried Over. Two cases were carried over. The board asked Oliver Houghton to resubmit plans covering all the factors involved in his plans to build a two-story addi-

Question of the Week

*What says the weatherman, I'd like to know,
But turn him off.
If he says, "more snow."*

If you listen carefully, he's saying, "More snow maybe."

Weather-map watchers are keeping a firm eye on a big low pressure center born in the Texas Panhandle and moving this way in a determined fashion. It seems sure to bring precipitation Friday night or Saturday but whether rain or more snow, the Man simply says, "Wait and see."

tion to his office building at 221 Witherpoon Street. Only joint occupancy is permitted in the zones in which the building is located.

The YMCA was also told to come back to give the board a chance to look at its new plans for traffic flow connected with its proposed construction of a new gym and new social wing.

The Y had been sent to the Planning Board to permit the latter to review the Y's parking plans. The planning board had some reservations about the locations of certain exits and entrances. Two days later, the Y appeared before the zoning board but with a different plan than the one they had shown the planning board.

The zoners want the Planning Board to see this latest plan before they make a ruling on the application. The Y needs several variances and a conditional use permit.

PARKED CARS TARGET

Of Thefts. Borough police reported the theft during the weekend of articles from two parked cars.

Patricia Jasionowski of Parlin lost expensive jewelry and clothing valued at $800 when her suitcase was stolen Friday from the front seat of her car. Her University date for the weekend, Denis Grande, told police she parked her car in the University Store lot and when she returned 15 minutes later, the suitcase was gone.

Gregory Zaic of Campbell Hall had a sport coat, light meter and radio speaker taken from his car parked behind Dial Lodge on Prospect Avenue. He placed the theft between 6-8 and 9-11 p.m. Saturday.

A Hightstown youth attending the dance at The Catamounts in Trinity Church Saturday night told police that all the wires of his car had been ripped out while it was in the church lot. "It seems every Saturday night we get a report of some incident of this type at the dance or in the vicinity," said Chief Peter J. McCrohan.

On Thursday, Borough police with the aid of Township police extinguished a motor fire on a car parked on Spring Street. Police said the motor of a 1964 station wagon owned by Mrs. Dale Madden, 155 Bertrand Drive, was "fairly well damaged."

MACK NAMED CHAIRMAN
Of Civil Rights Commission
Gordon Mack, who served as chairman for the original study group, has been appointed first year chairman of the new Joint Civil Rights Commission for Princeton.

Mayor Henry S. Patterson announced at Borough Council Tuesday night that he and Township Mayor John D. Wallace had agreed on a joint appointment. Both mayors will meet Saturday with Mr. Mack, but the new chairman has already called his members for a meeting before Saturday, Mayor Patterson said.

A parking ordinance amendment rolling several hits into one package, was introduced by Council Tuesday night. Public hearing March 11. In effect:

- Two hour parking limit on John Street, replacing the all day parking. As the Borough restricts all day parking on various streets (Green, last year), car owners edge onto other streets (John, in this case).

Mayor Patterson, who said he often wondered where it would all end, expressed sympathy with home owners who aren't allowed to park in front of their own homes because of two hour limits, but said he had no solution. The two hour John Street limit was requested in a 28 signature petition.

- A Mercer Street cross walk for Seminary students shuttling between the Seminary library and the Seminary campus. The state says OK.

- "No parking" on South Talane for 150 feet back from Nassau Street.

- Legalization of present parking on University Place, and at the Alexander Street/Mercer Street intersection. The Borough had intended to switch sides on University Place, but the new University Store parking lot design is so successful that the Borough doesn't either have to fight or switch.

A memorial sculpture to the late Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., executed by David Savage, will be erected by the First Baptist Church on a triangle of land that has belonged to the Borough. The Borough will transfer the parcel to the church.

Nobody objected or approved either, for that matter—so Council passed the ordinance changing Spruce Street East to Bainbridge Street. Spruce only exists on a map, anyway.

Councilman Charles Cornforth reminded Council that the Borough spent $20,000 last year on new parking meters that will only take more money.

In January of this year, meter receipts were $12,722. In January of last year, with the old and cheap meters, receipts were $7,380.

"A good return on our investment," commented Councilman Fred Peterson.

RED CROSS TO TRAIN

Blood Program Volunteers. The Princeton Chapter of the American Red Cross plans to offer training course for volunteers to work as Blood Program Aides and for registered and licensed practical nurses who are willing to work on bloodmobile units.

The three-hour training program will be held at the First Aid and Rescue Squad building on Harrison Street at 10 a.m., February 18. Blood Program Aides are responsible for registering donors, labeling containers and assisting the nurses in the donor room.

Volunteer nurses are needed for taking the medical histories of the donors. The blood mobile visits about 35 industries in the Princeton area each month. Further information can be obtained by calling the Red Cross at 924-2404.

ELECTRICAL FIRE MONDAY continuing the investigation. Small Damage to Apartment. Fire, originating in electrical wiring in the walls, caused no damage Monday evening to an apartment at 206 Wilburton Street. It is occupied by John Ingram.

Borough Patrolmen John B. Dalbie reported "there was no damage at all." He said that some wiring had been shorted by melting snow and ignited, causing a small portion of the wall to smoulder.

CONOVER HOME ENTERED

William Marvel, also entering his second year of service, was elected vice-president.

Mr. Marks succeeds Mrs. George Freeman who now joins the rank and file of board members after a two year term as president.

Thomas P. Cook was reappointed counsel to the board at the reorganization meeting, and the two new members, C. Shelby Rooks for the Township and Mrs. Richard Edgewood for the Borough, joined the re-elected Winthrop S. Pike on the newly constituted board.

BANK'S ASSETS JUMP

To $77.2 Million. The 76-year-old First National Bank of Princeton has announced an 11.7 percent increase in assets during 1968, to $77.2 million, according to the institution's current annual report.

Ralph H. Mather, president of the bank, said it had registered increases of 9.8 percent in demand deposits and 12 percent in time deposits. New estate accounts and other appointments pushed the direct income of the trust department up 29 percent, with assets now valued at $5 million.

More increases are yet to come, the bank predicts. "This has been one of the greatest years in our history," Mr. Mather commented, "but by providing more and better service to our banking customers, we anticipate that 1969 will be even greater."

NEW DIRECTOR CHOSEN

By Aluminum Corporation. Frederic R. Peterson, 30 Boudinot street, manager of the Princeton office of Ladlaw & Co., has been elected to the board of directors of Mid-east Aluminum Corporation.

Mr. Peterson, a 1934 graduate of Princeton University, also serves as a member of Borough Council, a director of Princeton Research Lands, Inc., Base Two Systems, Inc., and Peterson's Guides.

He is a member of the advisory board of the First Trenton National Bank Branch in Pennington, and president of the Lawrenceville School Father's Association.

Shop is 17 Years Old. The Princeton Gourmet, one of the community's most successful retail enterprises, has been sold to a young Philadelphia lawyer who would rather cook than practice law.

Phyllis Reilly and Patricia Gehlert, owners of The Gourmet, announced this week that Andrew Steiner and his wife, Ellen, the new owners, will take over immediately.

The Steiners own a shop called Bon Appetit at 19th and Chestnut in Philadelphia, and a branch in Jenkintown.

"We plan to keep The Gourmet pretty much the same with the same name," Mr. Steiner said, as he talked about his purchase, "but my chief interest is cooking, so we plan to specialize in cooking equipment—things we import directly from France, Germany, Italy and of course the Scandinavian countries."

Young Mr. Steiner—he is 27—is a member of the Pennsylvania bar. After the B.A. from St. John's College in Annapolis, he went to the University of Pennsylvania and obtained his law degree and his M.A. in philosophy at the same time.

"But it's more fun to cook than to run a shop and meet interesting people than to practice law," he smiled. "I've been giving omelet making demonstrations gave one the other day for 160 women, as a matter of fact." He is also an excellent pastry cook.

Need a Douce? As soon as the dock strike allows, Mr. Steiner will stock the Gourmet have been done by Mrs. Kauffman in the Williamsburg manner, a fashion which appeals in formality and 18th-century charm, to many people in Princeton.

Pride in her artistry shines through Mrs. Kauffman's smile as she walks through the short office.

"Subtly and warmly with color to complement the all women staff of this office," she points out, calling loving attention to the antique gold carpet, the gentle bittersweet and avocado accents in a print, and the repeating pineapple design that is Mrs. Short's trademark.

"I'm so excited about these windows," she exclaims. The Audrey Short offices are in an old house at 163 Nassau, and the windows are wonderfully tall and slim.

"We used a handscreened fabric here," she says, fingerling the draperies, "and look! The workmen in the drapery shop followed the contour of that cornice to a T."

alluring young stars of the Metropolitan Opera production combine a vocal excellence and youthful charm which eclipse all those who came before — Correlli and Freni are the Coupled lovers par excellence. Said the New York Times of the duo's first performance in the new production of the opera:

His was a "big, round sound... young and ardent, the most handsome Romeo since Jean de Reszki..." and she was "enchanting, all wide-eyed innocence, with appealing vocal texture... she got an ovation"

A magnificent three-record box set complete with text/libretto.

FUND DRIVE TOPS GOAL.
For 5th Consecutive Year. The 1968 Princeton Area United Funded Cross Campaign exceeded its goal for the ninth year in a row, campaign chairman Willard Stinger announced at the group's annual meeting on Wednesday, February 12, in the Nassau Inn.

The fund exceeded its $400,297 goal by more than $8,000 at the completion of the drive.

Mr. Stinger added that the 1968 per capita contribution for the Princeton area was $10.90, compared to a national average of $4.36.

The highest divisional results for the campaign were attained by the research division, chaired by Stewart Otto. Other contributions were: Special Gifts, Peter C. Holback, II, chairman, $138,571; Princeton University, David Rahr, chairman, $46,567; Professions, chaired by Albert Barclay, Jr., Glen Ebbach, Kester Pierson, and William Baggett, $40,366.

Also, Education, chaired by Albert Kerr, Philip E. McPherson, Melvin Krepes, and James Richmond, $13,500; Mercantile, William Dettmar & Princeton Rotary and Kiwanis, chairmen, $9,490; Building Trades, George Muggie and William Fry, chairman, $7,928; and Princeton Shopping Center, Thomas Brennan and Mitchell Seidler, chairmen, $3,935.

TRUSTEES CHOSEN
By Historical Society. Four new trustees for the Historical Society of Princeton were elected at the organization's annual meeting last month, and Mrs. Gordon Knox was selected first vice president.

The new trustees are Miss Genevieve C. Cobb, John W. Counts, Mrs. Daniel C. Herrick, and Frederick S. Osborne. Miss Cobb is the Society's volunteer librarian, Mr. Counts is librarian of Littlebrook School, Mrs. Herrick ran the Society's 1968 benefit and will be in charge of the benefit again this year. Mr. Osborne was editor of the Princeton Herald and is now on the staff of the Princeton Packet.

Bruce H. French, genealogical chairman of the Society, has announced that McClure Howland is winner of the Society's annual genealogical contest. He won the award for his tracing of the Hamilton family back to the Tudors.

Herbert Hobler, president of Nassau Broadcasting, has begun a series of taped interviews, in which he will record the recollections of many Princeton residents about life in the community, documenting the changing times for the benefit of future historians.

WHAT DOES PHS NEED?
You're invited to Say. What are the general needs of Princeton High School, especially the immediate needs for 1969-70?

Parents and citizens are invited to write opinions and suggestions to Dr. Philip E. McPherson, superintendent of schools, during the month of February.

Then, on Tuesday, February 25 at Community Park School, the Board of Education will set aside part of the regular meeting time so that people can discuss the high schools' needs. Future requirements of the high school should be considered in the light of the board's search for a new principal to replace Kenneth Michael, Dr. McPherson said.

THREE LOSE LICENSES
For Points, Speaking, James R. Rayner, 20, 1/2 College Road, had his license revoked for 30 days and Gary L. Stewart, 20, 216 Ingleside Avenue, Pennington lost his license for two months, under the state's point system.

William W. Smith, 46, 240 South Main Street, Pennington, lost his license for 30 days under the 60/70 excessive speed program.

LEARN SEAMANSHIP
Taught by Coast Guard. A spring public education course in basic seamanship and small boat handling will be given by the Princeton Flotilla, 487 of the U.S. Coast Guard, beginning February 18.

The ten-week course will be held from 8:10 p.m. at McGraw Hill Publishing Company, Main Building, Princeton-Hightstown Road. Registration will be open at 7:30 p.m. on the first night of classes. Fees will include the cost of materials, text books and charts. There is no charge for the instruction. For further information, call 452-9231 or 921-7573.

1,328 CALLS ANSWERED
By Rescue Squad in '68. Princeton's First Aid and Rescue Squad responded to 1,328 calls during 1968, an increase of 16% over the previous year, according to David Cromwell, Squad Captain.

The squad's volunteers spent almost 5,000 man-hours answering requests for emergency service and ambulance transportation last year. Their trips accounted for over 17,000 miles.

PEOPLE In The News

Robert P. Hahgood III, The Great Road, and Eugene E. Biernaski, New Road, Hope well Township, have been appointed vice presidents of the Chase Manhattan Bank. Mr. Hahgood serves in the bank's Fiduciary Investment Department, while Mr. Biernaski will help coordinate business between the head office and the bank's 147 branches throughout the city and surrounding counties.

Mr. Hahgood, a 1958 graduate of Princeton, joined Chase Manhattan in 1960 as a member of the bank's Special Development Program and was promoted to investment officer in 1964. He was made a second vice president two years later.

Mr. Biernaski, a 1952 graduate of Brooklyn College with a 1954 business degree from New York University, joined the bank's metropolitan department in 1954, spent four years in Japan with the international department from 1955 to 1959, and became an assistant treasurer in 1961. He was promoted to second vice president in 1966.

Jacqueline Cervera, Kensington Arms, Hightstown, and Katherine Kenfield, 219A Eisenhower Street, were among 160 students who received degrees Sunday at Rider College's Winter Commencement.

Miss Cervera, who majored in business administration, received a Bachelor of Science in Commerce degree. Miss Kenfield, an English major, was awarded a Bachelor of Arts degree.

Karl D. Pettit III, son of Mr. and Mrs. Karl D. Pettit Jr., 104 Rayard Lane, has been promoted to Lieutenant (junior grade) with the U.S. Navy. A 1967 graduate of Princeton University, majoring in architecture, he is currently stationed with the Naval Mobile Construction Battalion at Camp Stinger, Roosevelt Roads Naval Station, Puerto Rico.

Robert L. Geddes, 229 Mercer Street, and Bernard P. Spring, Faculty Road, will be honored February 11 by "Engineering News Record," a McGraw-Hill publication, at the fourth annual Construction's Man of the Year Dinner.

Dr. Geddes, dean of Princeton University's School of Architecture, and Dr. Spring, an architecture professor at Princeton, jointly authored the Princeton Report, a strategy for interprofessional development of education for environmental design. The Report earned both men citations as "Men Who Made Marks in 1968" in the construction industry.

Others to be awarded plaques at the dinner include New York Mayor John V. Lindsay, National Urban League director Whitney Young, and former Sen. Paul H. Douglas.

Miss Sara R. Somers, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Herman Somers, 31 Scott Lane, is one of 26 students at Lake Forest College to receive three honor grades for the fall term, under the college's recently instituted four-point grading system. A 1965 Princeton High School graduate, she is a senior majoring in art history, active in student government and the dramatic association.

Captain Leonard E. Andrews, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Durkin, Canal Road, has been honored as a member of the Air Force's Outstanding Unit Award. He is a KC-135 Stratolifter aircraft commander in the 92nd Strategic Aerospace Wing, at Fairchild AFB, Washington.

Archibald S. Alexander Jr., 61 Westcott Road, has been elected president of the Mercer County Chapter of the Morrow Association on Correction, for the coming year.

Named after Dwight Morrow, a former ambassador to Mexico and U.S. senator from New Jersey, who transformed New Jersey's correctional structure, the Morrow Association seeks to promote rehabilitation of inmates in the state's prisons and other institutions. One of the group's current projects is a federally-financed "half way house" in Trenton.

which prepares inmates for outside life after release from the county jail or workhouse.

Patricia Taylor, a Princeton High School senior has been named 1969 Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow for Princeton High School after receiving the highest score on a homemaking aptitude test given to senior girls.

Miss Taylor was awarded a silver charm from General Mills, sponsor of the contest. She now is also eligible to compete for state and national scholarships worth $1,500 and $3,000, respectively.

Dr. Carl C. Faith, 199 Longview Drive, a mathematics professor at Rutgers University, has been invited to a conference of the German Mathematical Society on Rings and Homological Algebra at Oberwolfach, Germany, this spring. Professor Faith has lectured on ring theory at the University of Florida, and plans to speak at Queens University, Ontario, Canada, next month.

Laurence R. Goodyear, Jr., Bridgepoint Road, Belle Mead, has been elected as a vice president of Fiduciary Trust Company of New York.

Mr. Goodyear graduated from Yale in 1959 and attended the New York University Graduate School of Business Administration. He was worked for the Fiduciary Trust Company since 1967.

David B. Smoyer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley C. Smoyer, 86 Olden Lane, has been appointed as a new associate director of the Department of Athletics at Yale University.

He had been administrative assistant to the President of the North American Soccer League in New York City since March, 1967.

A graduate of Phillips Academy, Andover, Mass., Mr. Smoyer received a B.A. degree from Dartmouth in 1963, where he was an honor student, all-American soccer player, as well as a varsity letterman in squash and tennis. He was captain of the Dartmouth squash team.

He went on to Harvard Law School receiving a degree from there in 1966. Upon admission to the Pennsylvania Bar, he practiced law with the firm of Pepper, Hamilton, and Scheetz in Philadelphia until March, 1967. He is married to the former Mary Howland and they have a son, Mark.

PANTING FOR A CHANGE: Girls at Princeton Schools have won the right to wear pants and blue jeans to school. "I think we should be free to express ourselves," says blue jean wearer Margie Britt, in defending the new freedom. Bill Bonthron Jr. agrees the change is "nice."

Question Of The Week

Question: What is your reaction to girls being allowed now to wear pants and blue jeans to school?

Where asked: Nassau Street.

Margie Britt, 71 Battle Road, PHS sophomore: I think it allows us to dress the way we want. It's nice to be able to forget about girdles. I think we should be comfortable in class and free to express ourselves.

Bill Bonthron Jr., The Great Road, PHS senior: I think it's all right; it looks good. It's nice that they can wear what they want to. It's just nice—that's all there is to it.

Anne "Dusti" Brown, 54 Westcott Road, Community Park School: It's pretty good but the boys don't like it. Why? Beats me. It's easier, if you run out of skirts, you can always resort to slacks. It's more comfortable, too.

Richard Winthrop, 133 Jefferson Road, PHS senior: I think some girls have very bad taste in pants. I guess it would be all right if they would use the right discretion. Personally, I think they should wear dresses. Dresses, more or less fit the atmosphere of school. idea, but not every day. At Princeton High School principal got so fed up he just let them go ahead and now my sister gets to wear pants every day and I don't think that's right. If they go out after school, they look like slob.

Ken Klothner, Mount Lucas Road, PHS senior: I feel it's really good. It's a practical move more than anything else. I don't see why girls should have to suffer in cold weather. I can't see any logical or moral objection to it. The old code in which slacks were not allowed in school was merely a holdover from a philosophy long out of date. I think it was time for a change.

Cludy Chambers, Colonial Avenue, Princeton Junction, PHS sophomore: I think it's perfect. It's really better! You don't have to worry about how you sit and you're not always pulling up your stocking or pulling down your skirt. It's more enjoyable just getting up in the morning and not having to put on a dress or skirt. Now, I really enjoy going to classes.

Doug Rand, 61 Winfield Road, PHS sophomore: I'm not against girls wearing pants to school. I just don't think dress appearance matters at all. I don't think it has anything to do with school work and that's what schools are for. We're not here to look pretty.

Gina Webb, 8 Hamilton Avenue, PHS sophomore: One good thing about it: in winter your legs are a lot warmer. You just about kill yourself getting to school in short skirts. With slacks you can walk around outside and enjoy it. You don't need as big a selection of clothes either. All you need are a couple pair of pants and some shirts. I just bought a pair of pants and I'm going to wear them!

Jean Scott, 232 John Street, PHS senior: I like it. I think it's great. It's more comfortable in blue jeans.

Fred Skipwarth, Hollow Road, Skillman, PHS senior: I don't think it's a good idea. It's not proper. They never wore them before so why start now? It really doesn't look good at all. All this time they've worn skirts and dresses.

Mary Johnson, Pretty Brook Road, PHS freshman: I'm deeply in favor of the matter. Pants are in style. It enables girls now to run around and jump and have more freedom. You're not so cramped up, you feel more at home.

Nancy Farley, 188 Parkside Drive, PHS freshman: I think it's good. You're more comfortable and it's not so much trouble. You don't have to worry how you sit. There's not so much pressure on you. You're more free.

Lynn Skillman, 52 Harriet Drive, PHS freshman: I don't like it because I think it will be carried too far. If you are going to wear pants at least wear decent ones. Some do, some don't. By decent, I mean wool pants, not ones with holes in them or with paint dripping down the sides.

Colleen O'Leary, PHS sophomore: I'm for it all the way. You don't have to worry about your dresses being too short. It's more casual, you're more relaxed.

Anne Deannan, 11 Haslet Street, fourth-grader, Princeton Day School: On Friday yes, on other days no. One day a week is enough. Also, I go skating Fridays at PDS and I don't like to have to change. At PDS they let the girls wear slacks on Fridays but only the lower school students.

Alice Britt, 71 Battle Road, fourth-grader, Princeton Day School: I think it is a good

This was soon erased by a three-goal barrage by Kent, which ended the period leading 3-1. The second period was scoreless with Kent dominating the play. In the third Kent scored twice more as PDS began to tire. Chris Reeve was in the goal for the Panthers.

In the game against Hill, the winners jumped off to a 2-0 advantage and were never headed. PDS narrowed the goal to 2-1, but Hill got the goal back to lead 3-1 going into the third period. The Panthers made it 3-2 with three minutes left, but the roof fell in the time remaining.

THIS HOME FOR PAIR With Bridgewater, Stierlet. A team which has suffered through many lost seconds this season finds itself faced with the possibility of winning two this week.

Off its 115 record, the Princeton High School basketball team will be the choice to come out second best against Bridgewater-Raritan here Friday evening at 8 and against Stierlet in a 4:45 contest in the PHS gym on Tuesday. But the possibility of a PHS twin killing is that possible Bridgewater, which PHS upset last year on the Golden Falcon's home court by two points for one of its three victories, is less likely to become a victim of a PHS upset. In its last outing, Bridgewater topped Franklin 69-51 by two points. 50-57, the latter owning a victory earlier this year over PHS.

If Bridgewater will be thriving for revenge, PHS will be too, in its match with Stierlet. In their first meeting, the Spartans won by two points in a hectic finish. The Little Tigers should have a better than even chance of defeating the Spartans who have lost 10 of 17 this season.

Third Quarter Killed Us. Against Notre Dame (11-6) Friday, PHS played a solid first half against the heavily favored Irish. Then the roof fell in the third quarter. The third quarter killed us," said PHS coach Larry Ivan, commenting on the 21-3 margin rolled up by the Irish in the period.

"They had a lot of baskets underneath which we couldn't seem to cope with," he said. We just didn't do the job of ferocity or defensively on the boards. I was pleased with their performance in the first half, but you can't let down against a team like Notre Dame."

Brooks' Best, Billy Brooks was the only Little Tiger to score more than 7 points, getting 17. "It was by far his best half game," said Ivan. "He

Tigers Win Ivy Battle

In a triangular meet last week, Princeton shut out Yale and Dartmouth by identical scores of 1-0. Bowie Kuhn of the Tigers staged a spectacular upset when he finished first in the race for baseball commissioner. Actually, he had not even been tabbed as a last-minute entry until the other contestants took the starting line.

Listed as also wins were Mike Burke of Yale (and the New York Yankees) and Hubie Preney of Dartmouth (and the San Francisco Giants). An attorney for the National League, the commissioner was a member of the Class of 1948 at Princeton.

looked stronger than he has at any point last year or this year."

The smooth, shooting senior has a 15.2 average and is the ninth leading scorer in Mercer County. "That's all right," added Ivan, who could use a few more players that can pump the ball through the hoop as often as Brooks does.

Fine as Brooks was, he was overshadowed by Notre Dame's standout Walt Kocuminski, who is closing in on becoming the all-time scorer in Mercer County. The 6-5 center tossed in 30 points to raise his total to 1,092, seven behind third place Jack Adams on the all-time scoring list.

In one unusual aspect of the game, PHS was a perfect seven for seven in the second quarter. Surprisingly, all were layups by a team that has had trouble consistently in the past trying to work the ball in.

Peddle Wins 74-49. Two days later, PHS was the receiving end of a record-setting performance by the all-time leading Peddle School scorer, Mike Parker. Parker hit on 15 shots from the floor and an equal number from the foul line, as he poured in 45 points — 11 more than his previous high. The outburst upped his career total to 1,111 points. The game itself was won by Peddle, 74-49. It was the victory's tenth against four setbacks.

For PHS, Brooks and Larry Madden tied for scoring honors with 15 each. Bill Nelson had six.

There are losers and losers. And although PHS is losing, Ivan is not discouraged. "If you are losing and you look bad losing, that's one thing. We're losing but we are playing capable ball."

The distinction between capable and indifferent is a fair one, as far as PHS is concerned. It's been the team's misfortune that its "capable ball" has not been good enough for the likes of Trenton, Hamilton and Notre Dame.

HUN WINS TWO MORE. Moorestown Here Friday. The Hun School won two more Penn-Jersey basketball games last week, defeating Solebury Saturday in its new gym, 89-68, and Friends Central earlier, 77-63. So what else is new?

The Red and Black will try to make it 12-0 in the league to next week at the expense of Moorestown and Pennington School. Moorestown will be at Hun Friday afternoon at 2:15, while Hun will make the short trip to Pennington Wednesday for a 4 p.m. contest.

Super firepower from Nat Williams and Mike Maguire powered Hun to its easy win over Solebury. Williams hit for 22 points, Maguire for 19. Don Silvers and Herm Secker combined for 32 more.

Last Wednesday Hun jumped to a 19-0 lead over Friends Central and widened the spread to 46-28 at the half. Accuracy was the name of the game as coach Dave Lee's title-bound team connected on 21 of 28 shots in the half for a torrid 75 percent performance. High scorers on the team were Williams with 21, Secker with 18 and Silvers and Mike Rossi, 13 each.

PDS vs. RUTGERS PREP

In basketball Friday, Rutgers Prep will provide the opposition for the Princeton Day School basketball team Friday at 3:00 in the PHS gym. The Panthers lost a close one last year to Rutgers Prep, 76-72. A contest against Jewish Education Center is scheduled for Wednesday.

In action last week, the Blue and White split a pair of games, defeating Dune Ward Seminary, 94-66 on Wednesday, and losing to Delbarton, 78-50 on Saturday.

In Saturday's contest, the Panthers were unable to compete with a balanced Delbarton attack, which saw four men in double figures. The winners moved out to a 21-14 first period lead and were never headed. The halftime margin was 42-22. Craig Page led all scorers with 24 points. Calvin Johnson had 11 and Tom Spain 7.

The Panthers found the going much easier against Divine Word, as Page poured in 37 points. Johnson had 31 and Spain 13. Leading by only 19-16 at the end of the first quarter, PDS increased its margin steadily for the rest of the contest, including a 34-point spurge in the final stanza.

SKATERS LOSE, 5-2

Wissachicken Next. A well-tested Princeton High School hockey team will travel to Chestnut Hill Wednesday for a 6 p.m. contest with the all-ways-strong Wissachicken Hockey Club.

The Little Tigers received an eight-day layoff when Friday's scheduled contest with the Summit Hockey Club was cancelled. PHS coach John Post reported that Summit, which has a heavy schedule, was unable to meet its commitment to play PHS.

As it has most of the season, the team found the going far from easy Friday night on the Princeton Day School rink against the Cranford Hockey Club, dropping a 5-2 decision. White with a 1-6 record.

The way Post described the game, it was three separate contests. In the first period, his team skated well and was able to contain Cranford 1-0. In the second period, he completely fell apart and they scored four times."

In the third period, he recalled, "we came back and scored two goals in the first few minutes of play. We were doing well when we ran into a string of five or six consecutive penalties." As a consequence, PHS played the remainder of the game shorthanded and had no chance to close the gap. Chris Gartner and freshman Howie Constable scored for Princeton.

Things should get better for Post, now nearing the end of his first season as coach. He reported that five players on his first two teams are freshmen. "I've got some real haulers in the freshman and sophomore grades," he said.

WRESTLERS SPILT

District Matches Next Week. Following Tuesday's scheduled finale with South Brunswick, the Princeton High School wrestling team will be idle until the district matches, which will be held next Friday and Saturday, February 21 and 22, at Hunterdon Central.

Coach Tom Murray will take a full team to the districts, but in view of the caliber of the competition, the largest number PHS can realistically hope will survive to enter the regional matches the following week is no more than three or four. Heading the list will be Princeton's two outstanding wrestlers this year, captain Hank Wilkinson, 125-pounder, and Nick Arcaro, 168 pounds. Other possible Little Tiger winners in the opinion of Murray are Mark Evans, 98 pounds; Chris Mislow, 128 pounds; and Loujahn Rossi, heavyweight.

But as Murray pointed out, you never can tell what will happen in wrestling. Even the best get caught some time, as was true of Wilkinson in Saturday's meet with Hunterdon Central which PHS lost, 35 to 8—a little more lopsided than Murray had hoped.

Going into the Wilkinson match, the score was tied 5-5, Princeton's points coming on a draw between Mark Evans and his opponent in the 98-pound class and Dave MacDonald's decision in the next bout. After Hank got caught in a surprise pin, however, it was all downhill after that. PHS did not win another bout with the exception of Arcaro's decision victory in the 168 pound level.

"I don't know what happened

BOYHOOD AMBITION FULFILLED: "This filled a life-long ambition; I've been wanting to catch one of these ever since I was a little boy." "Nassau Street store owner Merrill Zinder described his catch of a 106-pound, 8-foot, 7-inch sailfish off the coast of Acapulco January 29 as a "one strike, one fish" achievement. He reports catching it in sight of shore with an 18-pound test line, after a 20-minute battle. It was a memorable vacation for the Zinders as his wife, Francine, also caught a sailfish "about the same size."

to Hank," said Murray. "He just got caught and it's one of those things. He feels very badly about it."

Murray reported that MacDonald wrestled the best match of the year. "I could just tell when he stepped out on the mat he was going to win. I don't know why but you could see he was just full of confidence."

After the match, Hunterdon's coach Russ Rigel told Murray that he ranked PHS about sixth among the 14 schools his team has faced this year. "He told me he saw a lot of boys on my team whom he would like to have on his own, which made me feel pretty good," said Murray.

Earlier in the week, PHS won its ninth dual meet of the year when it defeated Peddie, 29-17. Scoring pins for the Blue and White were Mark Evans, Bobby Moore and Mislow.

$111 for Jim Burd. At both the Peddie and Hunterdon matches, PHS took up a collection for Jim Burd, Hopewell Valley High wrestler, who is recovering from a brain injury he received in December.

Murray reported that $35 was collected at the afternoon match with Peddie and $70 Saturday night. It was sent to the Jim Burd Fund, he added, as a joint contribution from the team and fans of Peddie, Hunterdon Central and Princeton High School.

TWO NEW MARKS SET

By Flying Fish. Although the Princeton YMCA boys Flying Fish team lost its final dual meet of the season Saturday to Ridgewood, two of its members set new pool records.

Kendall Price won the 11-12, 50-yard freestyle in 27.0-but ting the previous mark by 2 of a second. In the 50-yard butterfly for boys the same age, Bill Cook's time of 30.0 was 3 of a second faster than the old mark.

ART In Princeton

Artists on View: The Art Chairman of the Present Day Club, Mrs. Joseph E. Bachelder, has arranged a group art show for the months of February and March with the following participating artists: Joanne Augustine, Yvonne Burk, George Ann Gillespie, Ruth Ann MacPherson, Nancy O'Connor, Helga Nergaard, Lucy McVicker, Marie Sturken, Peter Cook, William Hankinson and Charles McVicker.

As often mentioned, the meeting room of the Present Day Club is one of the loveliest and most gracious rooms in Princeton, and pictures not only look well against the paneled walls but, in return, give added warmth and natural charm to the atmosphere. With this end in view, Mrs. Bachelder plans a variety of exhibitions during the year for the enjoyment of members and visitors. In this particular show, the artists are from the Princeton area and have contributed two or three works each.

Joanne Augustine has hung several of her freely painted portraits of two lively little girls by Peter Cook and one of William Hankinson's big, lush still lifes actively designed and generously decorative. Yvonne Burk's "Still Life" of big bold potted plants was painted in broad, flat planes into a fine, strong design and picture. One expects a facile, breezy type of painting from George Ann Gillespie, and her still life of tulips is really just that, full blown and decorative. However, we prefer her landscape with barns in which there is a windswept sky and foreground.

Ruth MacPherson shows several easily described landscapes and one small watercolor sketch of "Hiroko" which is exceptionally well handled and suggestive of individual character. Nancy O'Connor's still lifes are in the gay, fresh colors she prefers on her palette and applies as zestfully to her canvases.

Interesting contrasts, both in technique and subject matter, come in Helga Nergaard's print, "Yamaki Was Here." "Rainy Saturday" by Lucy McVickers is a collage of shimmering reflections as the hazy, pastel passes by. Her husband Charles McVicker has an interesting description of a snowy scene in the collage "Across the Lawn."

Marie Sturken, with geometric shapes and rather blonde colors, creates the activity she loves on Long Beach.

First Watercolor Award was given Elaine Ellerslein for a very compact, balanced and well worked into still life. Second award was taken by Hirko Yoshikawa's landscape "Shoreline," which is evident proof of her innate artistic sense combined with a capable and free technique. (Also of all the many still lifes in this show we thought hers the most satisfying). Jan Swearer and Helen Lee received Honorable Mentions in watercolor.

The main Graphics Award was given to Ann Gross for the familiar "Family Tree" that we've seen and studied many times, always with amusement and appreciation. Mae Rockland's Second Graphics Award was for "Summer Landscape," which was appropriate quality and color for the woodland scene. An Honorable Mention in Graphics went to Marie Sturken's "Pacem."

Unprized but not unnoticed are many other exhibits by the following artists: Joanne Augustine, B. C. O'Connor, Mary Ann Brockman, Helga Nergaard, Peter Cook, Jean Eringen, Harriet Egan, Miriam Friend, Helen Gallagher, Janet Glover, Trudy Glucksberg, William Hankinson and Elaine Heinemann.

Also Florence Hillier, Margaret Kennard Johnson, Liz Johnston, Mary S. Johnston, Carin Laughlin, Nan Lee, Helen Manning, Vivian Morse, Helga Nergaard, Harriet Nergaard, Helen Schwartz, Eileen Shabbender, Jane Sathmar and Susan Wantman.

Sports In Princeton

Andy Bolster, Bill Crell and Dan Golden, Princeton also captured three medley relay races, Guy Dorgan, Paul McKenna, Joe Crell and Steve O'Day winning the 8 and under; Andy O'Hara, David Ely, Bob Hoedemaker and David Buhler taking the 10 and under; and Bob Foissett, Bill Crell, Dan Golden and Bob Meisel triumphing in the 15 1/2 race.

In an AAU meet held Saturday at the Westfield YMCA pool, a relay team comprised of girl members of the Flying Fish finished second in 200-yard relay with a clocking of 2:12.6. Swimmers were Kris Reeve, Carol Wagner, Joan Herzberg and Debbie McClain. Margaret Julison won a third-place medal in the same meet with a time of 1:19.5 in the 112-100 yard breaststroke.

EARLY LEAD VANISHES
As Skaters Lose to Brown, Floating happily along on a 3-0 lead with no more than 3:41 of the opening period gone Princeton's hockey team came back to earth midway through the final round against Brown Tuesday as the visitors whipped five goals into the Tiger net. It was a 7-4 final and the Tigers' 15th loss in 18 games this year.

A pair of goals by forward Rich Johnson within a span of 15 seconds launched Princeton toward what seemed to be a welcome upset. Less than a minute later, Jon Taylor followed with a third tally, and the home forces really appeared to have something going.

Brown got one back before the round ended, but 55 seconds into the following period, Taylor matched Johnson's effort by scoring another. Even with two rounds gone, it was still 4-2, Princeton.

Penalties were a major factor in the Tigers' downfall. They were a man short on each of the next three goals the Bruins scored, and the shortage of manpower, with more than goalie Midge Tighman could withstand.

A flurry of three goals in less than half a minute midway through the final period turned what had been a bright beginning for Princeton into a one-sided defeat. The Bruins' offense more than atoned for occasional defensive shortcomings as the visitors took complete charge in the final 20 minutes.

The contest was marked, as many others have been this year, by some appalling officiating. Bill Riley, one of the striped shirt clan, undoubtedly set a Baker Rink first when he called injury against Brown while it was not one but two men short.

PIS QUINOT BEATEN

By Trenton, 7-4 to 36. A 3-21 lead it had fashioned by outlasting Princeton in the final round for an easy 7-4 triumph for Trenton High School over the all-beaten Princeton High School basketball team Tuesday. The contest in Trenton was the losers' 17th defeat against a lone victory. The victors had a 64-to-23 margin in rebounds, just one of many reasons why the contest was never close. Their point spread was as high as 38-24 toward the end of the third period before reserves took over, but even then, the gap narrowed only slightly.

PIS SIXTEEN BEATEN

By Wissahickon, 6 to 2. Able to hold a good Wissahickon sexet even during the first two periods, Princeton High School's hockey team lost Tuesday, 6 to 2, on Princeton Day School ice.

Howie Constable and Phil Matthews scored for the losers, who began the third round tied with the visitors at 1-1, but could not hang on. Goalie Mike Tomlinson gave a good account of himself in the face of a steady barrage by the visitors.

YMCA OFFERS SAILING

In Introductory Course. The fundamentals of small boat sailing will be offered to the Princeton area's men and high school boys in a three-hour course taught by the YMCA's Don Rock.

The course material, including terminology, equipment, safety and technical tips, will be presented in three one-hour periods, beginning Monday at 8 p.m. at the YMCA. The last two sessions will meet February 21 and March 3.

NEW COACH ADDED

To Tiger Football Staff, One of the vacancies on Princeton's football coaching staff was filled last week with the appointment of Frank J. Cignetti, for the past three years an assistant at the University of Pittsburgh.

He will join Jake McCandless' staff on what the head coach calls "the offensive perimeter." As he has at Pittsburgh, Cignetti will work primarily with the offensive backs and ends. A 1960 graduate of Indiana State College, Indianapolis, Pa., the new staff aide was a Little All-American selection at end in his senior year.

McCandless still needs a line coach to replace the departed Bill Whitton, now head man at Holy Cross, and a backfield coach to handle the duties for which he was responsible before being named to succeed Dick Colman. It is possible, however, that if a coach who can direct single wing backfield operations cannot immediately be found, McCandless might take charge of that department for the coming year.

BOWLING NOTES

Jerry Perpetua: 613. Jerry Perpetua rolled a 613 series last week to help Princeton Average gain its first place with First Aid in the Nassau League. Both have 18 points, 38 former leader Grover Lumber fell into a third place tie with Howe Realty, four points back. In second place is First Aid with 16.

Jerry rolled games of 201-224-228. Teammates Jim Shely and Jim Wheeler had 200 and 206. Jerry's brother, Charles Perpetua Jr. of Howe Realty, claimed the high series single game of 246. Others: Rudy Schuit, 234; Sal DiMeglio, 219-202; John Baldino, 200; and Andy Drummond, 197.

Ed Lemore's hot streak continues. Aided by a 218 first game, Ed went on to roll 204-192 for a 634 series, while waiting for Rocky Hill in the Tri-County Firemen's League. Last week, Ed had a 645. Stanley Donald fashioned an even 600 on games of 206-210-184.

Bill Richardson had 224, Ray Slovinsky 216, Ed Hugh 213-204, Al Jerna 212, and Vince Sassman and Stan Tantum, 208. Ralph Kleiber, Paul Terecky, Frank Stoklo and Elmer Wilson were between 203 and 200.

Four teams are tied for second place with 20 points each, four behind league-leading No. 1. They are Rocky Hill, No. 1's, Kingston and K.F.D. Lawrenceville is third with 18.

Bill Bathie was high in the Mixed League with 200. Lorraine Adams and Myrtle Smith

MAMEL GAINS GROUND

In Bowling League. Scoring eight points last week, Mamel jumped from third to second place in the Princeton Women's Bowling League. Mamel now trails Cranbury Bank, 20-21.

Turney Motors slipped to third place with 22 points, followed by Rocky & Son's (18) and Rosso's Cafe (16). Next week is position night, and Cranbury's lead will be in jeopardy if Mamel continues its hot streak.

A new high team game of 901 was fashioned last week by Rosso's, Mettler "A" rolled the high team series of 233-93.

Marvin Silverstein with a 231 game, Betty Frantz, 184, and Sara Rose, 175, were instrumental in powering Rosso's to the new high team score. Other high games were those of Marge Bloom of Cranbury Bank, 205; Alice Potts of Mamel, 184, and Jean Foster of Rocky & Son's, 173.

Ann Effner (Turney), Mary Brady (Mettler A) and Elaine Masterson (Mamel) all had 176. Helen Lowe and Evelyn Saeley each rolled 175. Betty Frantz converted the 5-10 split.

MUSIC In Princeton

CONCERT SCHEDULED
By Choir And Orchestra. For the first time in its five year history, the Princeton Chamber Orchestra will join the Princeton High School Choir in a concert to be presented on April 1, in the John Waterman Auditorium.

The Chamber Orchestra, directed by Nicholas Harsanyi, is now on tour in the mid west. It has scheduled concerts in Minnesota, North and South Dakota, Iowa, Missouri and Michigan.

William Tregg directs the High School Choir, which recently returned from a recital in Washington, D.C. The group was the only high school choir to perform at the American Choral Directors' conference. All proceeds from the April concert will go toward the Princeton High School Scholarship Fund.

PATIENCE!

G. & S. Fann Alford, "Patience," the Gilbert and Sullivan opera that satirizes the flower people of the 1880s, will be given by Westminster Choir College on Friday and Saturday, February 21 and 22 in the John Witherspoon School auditorium.

Martha Stiermer will play the title role. Ray Pool will be Bartholomew the Fishly Pot and Phil Rader will be Grosvenor the Idyllic Pot.

William Tice and George Gray will be the Colonel and Major of the Dragon Guards. Other members of the cast are Mary Dempsey, Lucie Parinwall, Bonnie Bradley, Susan Page, Ed Reich and Peter Ciolek.

Munroe Wade, of the Westminster faculty, will be assistant director and two students, David Agler and David Smith will be in charge of music direction.

Tickets may be obtained by calling Westminster Choir College, 921-7100.

RECITAL PLANNED

By Princeton Music Group. The Princeton University Friends of Music will sponsor a piano recital by junior Stuart Strick at 8:30 p.m., Friday, in Room 101 of the Woolworth Center of Musical Studies.

Mr. Strick's program will include three Chopin études:

Opus 10, No. 4 in C Sharp Minor, Opus 25, No. 9 in G Flat Major; and Opus 25, No. 10 in B Minor. The fourth selection is the Liszt Sonata in B Minor.

The Princeton philosophy major has studied piano with Maryann Pilar and Leonard Shure. His current instructor is Sacha Gorodinski. The concert is free and open to the public.

SACRED MUSIC PLANNED

By Seminary Choir: The Princeton Theological Seminary Choir, directed by Dr. David Hugh Jones, will present a program of sacred music Sunday at 7:30 p.m. in the First Presbyterian Church of Princeton.

The 34 year old group has sung in more than 2,000 churches since its inception, and tours extensively each summer through North, South and Central America.

The musical portion of Sunday's program will include choral repertoires ranging from Palestrina, Lotti, Bach, Handel, Haydn and Mendelssohn to contemporary composers and folk writers.

BRASS GROUP TO PLAY

For Musical Amateurs. An eight piece brass ensemble will play a program of Gabrieli's "Jubilate Deo" and "Beceles." Sunday at 5 p.m. in the Unitarian Church, Cherry Hill Road. Mrs. Barbara Connolly Lewis will direct the program, which will include soloists June Tipton, soprano, and Terry Penner, tenor.

Any persons interested in music are invited to participate in the informal reading. They may contact Mrs. M. B. Gottlieb, 921-7214, to make arrangements for music and refreshments. Anyone wishing to join the society may do so at the door.

FOLK PROGRAM PLANNED

At Music Society Meeting. Folksongers Chuck and Non Perdue will present a musical program at a meeting of the Princeton Folk Music Society at 8:30 p.m., Friday, in the lounge of St. Andrew's Church.

While serving as president of the Folklore Society of Greater Washington, Mr. Perdue has appeared with his wife at folk festivals and clubs throughout the country. Mr. Perdue is now studying folklore and folk life at the graduate school of the University of Pennsylvania.

Admission is $5. Coffee will be served following the program.

Obituaries

Mrs. Dancy B. Hulet, 96, of a Greenwich, died February 8. She was the widow of George A. Hulet, former professor of physical chemistry at Princeton University.

Surviving are a son, George B. Hulet of Philadelphia; two grandchildren, and two sisters, the Misses Rachel P. and Grace S. Barker of Watertown Conn.

The service was held in Trinity Episcopal Church, the Rev. E. Rughy Auer, vicar, officiating. Interment was in Princeton Cemetery under direction of the Mather Funeral Home.

Mrs. Dorothy A. Petersen of 45 Wiggins Street died February 5 in Princeton Hospital. She was a retired director of education relations at the Parsons School of Design, New York City.

A native of New Bloomfield, Pa., Mrs. Petersen was a graduate of the Parsons School, and a member of Trinity Episcopal Church.

A sister, Miss Margaret Arnold of Princeton, survives her.

The service was held in Trinity Church, the Rev. James R. Whittemore, officiating. Interment was held at the convenience of the family. The Mather Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

Joseph W. Meyers, 35, of 60 Clearview Avenue, died February 8 in St. Francis Hospital. He was employed by the Irwin and Leighton Construction Company.

Born in Princeton, Mr. Meyers lived in Trenton for the past 10 years.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Amanda H. Meyers; two daughters Patricia Ann and Mary Elizabeth; three sons Joseph W., Bruce E. and John S., all at home; his father, Joseph Meyers Sr. of Exeter Township, and two sisters, Mrs. Joyce Stoeneg of Lawrenceville and Mrs. Katherine Ray of Trenton.

Requiem mass was celebrated at St. Paul's Church, interment was in the parish cemetery, under direction of the Kimble Funeral Home.

Mrs. Laila S. Dugger, 47, of 181 Spruce Circle, died February 7 in Princeton Hospital. She was the wife of James L. Dugger.

A Princeton resident for 45 years, Mrs. Dugger was a member of the First Baptist Church.

Also surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Janesena Johnson and Mrs. Beverly Pirox, both of Princeton; six grandchildren; one brother, William Stockett, Jr. of Baltimore and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Stockett of Virginia.

The service was held in the Anderson Funeral Home, Trenton, the Rev. Edward Smith of First Baptist Church, officiating. Interment was in Princeton Cemetery.

Mrs. Blanche E. Wambough, 81, of 109 Washington Road, died February 6 in Princeton Hospital after a brief illness. She was the widow of Louis C. Wambough.

Formerly of Brogue, Pa., Mrs. Wambough was a Princeton resident for the past five years. She was born in Lancaster, Pa.

Surviving are her daughter, Mrs. James Cooper, with whom she lived; four grandchildren; four great-grandchildren and a brother, Harold Herr of Lancaster.

The service was held in Red Lion, Pa. The Rev. H. Merle Saxman of McKendry Church of Airville officiating. Burial was in the McKendry Cemetery in Airville. Arrangements were made by the Kimble Funeral Home.

Brian K. Sharp, 28, formerly of Princeton, died February 6 at the Elwyn Institute, Media, Pa.

A native of Princeton, he is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph J. Sharp of Trenton, and his maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. James Giffillan of Perth Amboy.

A private service was held with Dr. Lee H. Bristol Jr., president of Westminster Choir College, officiating. Interment was in Princeton Cemetery under direction of the Mather Funeral Home. Memorial gifts may be sent to the Princeton Hospital Building Fund.

Reynold Danberry, 60, of 51 Lafayette Street, Hopewell, died February 7 in Princeton Hospital. He was former chief of the Hopewell Fire Department.

Mrs. Danberry, a native of Hopewell, was employed as a foreman for the past 40 years by the Rockwell Manufacturing Company. He was a member of the Hopewell Methodist Church, Hopewell Lodge 155 F&M and the Rockwell Squire Club of Rockwell Manufacturing.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Mary Catherine Danberry; a brother, A. Scott Jr. of Hopewell; and a sister, Mrs. Ellen Futernick of Philadelphia.

The service was held in Hopewell, the Rev. Maynard Hatch of Ganley Baptist Church officiating. Interment was in Highland Cemetery under direction of the Grunwell Memorial Home.

Set back from the road and surrounded by dogwoods in Princeton Township we have a very well built two story that is very good for a family who loves the outdoors. There is an entrance hall, a living room with a fireplace and a picture window with a lovely view of the very private wooded area, a dining room, cedar paneled study, lavatory, kitchen and screened porch on the first floor and 4 bedrooms and one bath on the 2nd floor. The heated basement has a finished playroom and laundry room. There's a 2 car garage. $55,000

CAN SPRING BE FAR BEHIND — ?
If you are looking for a four bedroom, two bath house in a close to school location, see this Cape Cod now.
And look forward to picking the flowers and enjoying the flowering trees later.
The price is right, the location is right, the condition and the grounds are perfect.

The pluses include a screened porch overlooking the garden — and a basement game room, fun for all ages.

It does things other small cars shouldn't do.

Coming at high speeds is one of the last things to expect small cars to do, successfully. Unless it's a SAAB, the out-of-the-ordinary small car. Out of the ordinary because it has front-wheel drive. So it doesn't push you around like others do. It pulls you around corners, curves and other drivers' mistakes. Is that all SAAB has? Not on your life. Most ordinary cars don't give you, even as options, all the standard SAAB safety features. As an optional extra, our new V-4 engine has a LIFETIME GUARANTEE.

You can drive it like a big car.

BUICK COLEMAN SAAB

ON BEING RADICAL

I know people who think I am as radical as contemporary design appears to those interested only in the traditional. On the other hand, some of my young radical friends look on me as an arch-conservative. This was brought home sharply to me in my reading Friday night of "New American Writing #5" (which I recommend to all interested in contemporary America), and in particular an article by Eric Bentley entitled "The Unilateralist University."

The last paragraph is advice I would give some of my young friends. I quote: "Be more opportu-nistic. At least in this respect — grab the education that you can get and that you or your parents are paying for. Understand that this education will have the limitations which given the history of Western civilization up to this point, it must have.
But seek out the exceptions and the deviants. Seek out sheer merit whatever the circumstantial ideology. Seek out fine men of learning, fine critics of life: they exist. Explode in revolt when you have to, but not when you don't have to. If you feel you must be a full-time reformer or revolutionary as of now, then go out — out from the university — and be one. The university is for people who don't yet feel quite ready for this mission or any other. It's for people who feel the university will help make them ready. If you conclude that it can help make you ready, then enroll. After that, by all means exploit the university for your own purposes — but in the way in which you can successfully be exploited and your interests fully served. Concede that the unilateralist university can still be of use; discover exactly what use it can be to you; then use it."

If the foregoing is puzzling or interesting to you read the whole article, Mewnsell for the best in contemporary design, see

HEART SHAPED HOUSES WE DO NOT HAVE . . . still, any one of these houses would make a great Valentine surprise!

A Princeton Township split. This house offers the convenience of being within walking distance to the entire school system, the bus line and all of your shopping needs. 4 bedrooms, 2 baths. $52,500

Perhaps you would prefer historic Lawrenceville. Why not this 4 bedroom Colonial ? Offers recreation room, 2 1/2 baths, a great basement for the ping-pong or pool set, a lovely lot and in excellent condition.
$54,500

If you would like to be "King of the Hill"
you can offer you a 5 bedroom, 4 bath property which snugly fits in a glade of shade trees. The living room has a fireplace and there is just scads of storage space. A separate playhouse ideal for entertaining the younger set. $62,500

A spanking new listing in Princeton Township's western area! 6 bedrooms, 4 1/2 baths,
eat-in kitchen, family room, study, laundry,
all kinds of extras and situated on over 2 acres. Need we say more? $96,500

A mansion, you say, fine. Another new listing. One of Princeton's finest old homes. Located in Western section. Separate apartment. The main house has 7 bedrooms and 3 1/2 baths. There is a library, a music room, many fireplaces and must really be seen.
This could be the house for which you have been waiting. $165,000

YOUR OWN BIT OF COUNTRY

Yet only a block from the New York bus!

Our new listing, an owner designed, air-conditioned redwood ranch on almost an acre, offers some lucky purchaser all the privacy in the world - and all the conveniences of one floor living. The living and dining rooms both look out through thermopane windows to a pool and pretty plantings, and are separated by a raised herring fireplace opening to both. Three good bedrooms, two tiled baths, an cable kitchen and screened porch. Downstairs, there is a finished playroom big enough for ping pong and shuffleboard, a huge study of four bedrooms, and the usual laundry and utility areas.

Fine Princeton Township location, easy walking distance of Littlebrook School, just 15 years young. Priced at $57,500

HEALTH HINTS

By George H. Hopkins, D.C.

HEALTH AND HAPPINESS ARE INSEPARABLE

A degree of happiness is attainable by everybody who seeks it. The rich or poor, the important and unimportant, can enjoy life — even the layman can enjoy the landscape. But none of these can be happy without the principal ingredient — good health. All hopes of ambition, in any field, depend on good health. Without it, life is nothing. Yet most people are less concerned about health than about their car and take less care of their bodies.

One of the most important factors in maintaining good health is an unobstructed nervous system, for this is the origin of our well-being. The central nerves are encased in the spine. They branch out between the vertebrae to all parts of the body. If the flow of nerve energy is cut off en route to its designated part of the body, then the deprive that will function abnormally. Headaches, eyestrain, upset stomach, and a multitude of disturbances ensue. A person then becomes ill, and any form of happiness is greatly decreased, for it can be enjoyed but little.

A thorough check-up of the nervous system is as important as happiness itself since it will contribute to the ward that end. The development of strong muscles, exercise, correct posture, and relaxation are contributing factors. But the necessity of a check-up on the integrity of the nervous system, by your doctor or chiropractor, is both wise and productive. The normal flow of nerve force increases natural resistance to disease and creates buoyant health which ensures a greater degree of happiness.

CHARMING — this tiny lake displays some of the most beautiful foliage in Princeton. Most of the homes are small, and so are the families — young adults with one or two children, or retired people lured here by the beauty of the street. This small house has living room, dining room, 2 bedrooms and a brand-new kitchen with a modern kitchen with a screened deck outside where one can linger over a late breakfast and listen to the brook babbling in the back yard. Downstairs, a huge entertainment room, with windows and a door leading to the garden, which makes this a good-sized house when it comes to entertaining. New refrigerator-freezer and combination washer-dryer included. (*) $34,500

FIVE BEDROOMS — on a knoll in Montgomery Township, with a pleasant view of woods and farms, yet only 8 minutes from Princeton, the 3-year-old Colonial has large living and dining rooms, paneled family room, a beautiful kitchen with plenty of eating space, Downstairs, a powder room, upstairs, 2 big tiled bathrooms. Central air-conditioning. Large basement for playroom and shop. An acre of land. Indoors, in impeccable condition. Freshly painted outside. $47,500

FOUR BEDROOMS — in a large 2-story home only three years old. On a quiet country road in an area where you'll often see deer and pheasant, yet only a short walk to N. Y. Express bus. Living room with fireplace, separate dining room, family room, powder room, modern kitchen. Upstairs, 4 bedrooms, 2 baths. Lot 125 by 286. This is a very pleasant house, which the owners (recently transferred) were very unhappy to leave. $55,000

BIG FAMILY? — here is a large 3-bedroom house on a spacious lot in a fine neighborhood with plenty of playmates for your children. Foyer, large living room, dining room, great kitchen, and powder room on first floor. Paneled family room with fireplace and another powder room. Big game room in the basement. Upstairs: 5 bedrooms, 2 baths, large closets. Wall-to-wall carpeting on first floor and stairs. (*) $64,500

FACING THE LAKE — Right on Lake Carnegie, where you can watch the crews race from your own deck outside the living room, there is a great house for a large family. 5 bedrooms, 2 full baths, 2 powder rooms. Large study. Separate dining room with fireplace. Big playroom. Huge terrace overlooking the Lake. Washer, dryer, refrigerator, disposal & wall-to-wall carpet included. The site is beautifully landscaped and replete with all the variety of great street trees. Owner has gone to California and property is available at once. (*) $79,500

ENTERTAIN LIKE A STAR — this fine brick residence, with a foyer floored in white marble and its large, stately dining room and its spacious living room with sliding glass doors leading to the terrace, was designed for entertaining. So was the big swimming pool, gleaming like a jewel in the woods on 11 acres overlooking Stony Brook. You'll love the big parties as soon as you enter the front door. Upstairs, 5 bedrooms, 3 baths. Central air-conditioning. Two acres of land in one of the Western Section's best locations. $110,000

STUART HILL — Fabulous 2-acre building site in the most desirable part of Princeton. This neighborhood appeals to people who dream of living in castles among lofty trees. All utilities installed. $28,000 up

(*) Many more fine homes in Princeton & vicinity in a wide price range. Ample parking space for our clients.

CLASSIC COLONIAL, VINTAGE 1915: on nearly two acres in a quiet village setting. Handsome white clapboard with slate roof, in a grove of towering old shade trees, has very respectable entrance hall, living room with fireplace and doors to covered porch, formal dining room, kitchen and powder room on the first floor. Three corner bedrooms and bath. Full attic and basement.
Detached two car garage. Solid and established, and so much nicer than its nearby, newer cousins $37,500

SO NEAR AND YET SO FAR: although this rambling modern house is just five minutes from New York commuting you'd never guess it as you sit before a roaring fire and watch the snow swirl across the frozen pond and fill up the woods on the opposite shore. Above, tower-like, the studio with its high ceiling and wall of glass overlooking the water is just waiting for an artist or writer. All on one floor, there's a stone floored entrance hall, large living-dining room with its brick fireplace and bookshelves, cozy kitchen, sunny playroom with sliding doors to terrace and porch, two childrens bedrooms & bath and conveniently adjacent laundry in a separate wing, a vast master bedroom has its own bath and secluded walled garden. Detached garage. Old trees. $55,700

A HOME FOR THE BRAVE: If the prospect of a little work with a paint brush doesn't frighten you, then you're bound to see the merit of this basically sound older two story in a nearby location. Center hall is flanked by living room with fireplace and separate dining room. Sunroom. Kitchen and lavatory.
3 double bedrooms, including large master, and good tile bath. Basement and attic. Wisteria covered terrace. Two car garage and garden house. Lovely lot with spectacular trees. Asking $32,000

WESTERN PRINCETON LOCATION THAT'S HARD TO BEAT: Quiet country lane in a neighborhood of great estates, within walking distance of both the Princeton Day School and Stuart Country Day. Immaculate two story, built 40 years ago by its only owner, has living room, dining room and modernized kitchen, two bedrooms and new bath downstairs. One bedroom and room for an office and a second bath up. On 1 1/4 beautiful acres. $39,500

COUNTRY HOUSE OF FIELDSTONE: A ten-year-old adaptation of the much admired Bucks County farmhouse on over three acres in a quiet, protected setting amid the rolling hills of Harborton. Through center hall distinguished by gracefully curving stairway and french tile floor opens to paneled living room and dining room each with fireplace. Modern kitchen. Maid's room, bath and powder room. Upstairs, luxurious master suite, plus 4 more rooms and two baths. Almost impossible to reproduce. $95,000
